Wave-pool consensus—'It would make our town better'

"The ice skating rink built in the 1960s is a big asset. The proposed wave pool can have a similarly favorable impact. It would make our town better, so let's vote for it Nov. 25."

That consensus sentiment expressed at Wednesday's Granite City Rotary prayer breakfast was endorsed by most of those present as they encouraged park officials to continue their planning for recreational improvements.

Granite City Park Board President Jake Hinterser described the district's 20-year bond proposal and answered questions from the gathering. He was assisted by Park Recreation Director Gary Grandtner and Carl E. Mathias, chairman of a citizens' steering committee.

Noise will not be a problem at the new pool site immediately east of the ice rink, Hinterser said in discussing misconceptions that have arisen. Noting that the present Wilson Park swimming pool is to be operated in the summer of 1979 but probably not beyond then, the speaker said new facilities could be ready for the 1980 swimming season.

Without steps to achieve more self-sustaining attractions such as the wave-making pool and a more-enclosed skating rink, varied existing recreational programs may be placed in financial jeopardy, Hinterser said in noting the park district's longtime emphasis on diverse sports-leisure activities and its traditional tight limit on taxation for operating costs.

Final details, including cost revisions for the wave pool and other parts of the program, are to be decided by the Park Board during a meeting at 7 tonight.

A statement issued today by the district notes that it is calling a bond issue election for improvements in facilities at Wilson, Worthen and West Granite Parks and will conduct a public information meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9, at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

The election is planned for 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 25, since new state legal developments effective Dec. 1 otherwise would delay such voting until April.

The statement relates that the major improvement is the construction of a new swimming pool facility at Wilson Park. The present swimming pool was constructed in 1940.

"In the past seven years, the Park District has spent in excess of $112,000 on repairs to the existing pool including rewiring, new water lines, new return lines, and a new recirculating system for the baby pool."

"As the pool ages, these costs are sure to

United Way drive scours past 105%

By PAT FOLEY
Press-Record Staff Writer

The fall 1978 United Way campaign topped its goal of $548,000 by more than $30,000 to put the drive at the 105.6 percent mark at its fourth and final report luncheon, held yesterday at the officers' club of the Granite City Army Installation.

Of 1,386 Tri-Cities Area United Way accounts to be contacted by the various divisions, 1,118 were completed, leaving a balance of 277 still to be contacted.

Outstanding accounts will be accepted even though the campaign has officially ended. The total dollars pledged up to the fourth report meeting amount to $789,927.

The Torch Club of Granite City Steel was spotlighted by William P. Donovan, this year's drive chairman, as being instrumental in attaining the drive goal. The Torch Club pledged $190,000 to this year's campaign, an 11 percent increase over last year's pledge by the club.

UW proceeds help finance the 1979 operating costs of member agencies. Two divisions exceeded their individual goals for the campaign. The Industrial Division, headed by Howard Schuenke, finished at the 103.6 percent mark with a total of $450,784.

The only other division to exceed the 100 percent mark at this time was the Special Donor Division, chaired by Mrs. Mary Jessee. It ended the drive with $18,078 or 101.6 percent of the divisional quota.

Donovan reiterated his thanks to all the division chairmen and their group leaders

State post to Dr. Coleman

Donald L. Coleman, M.D., a lieutenant colonel in the Illinois Air National Guard, has been named state air surgeon on the Headquarters, Illinois Air National Guard, staff of Brigadier General Hal C. Tyree Jr. at O'Hare International Airport, Chicago. In civilian life, Dr. Coleman is medical director for Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corporation. He received his doctor of medicine degree from the University of Illinois College of Medicine in 1962, and his master's degree in public health from the University of California at Los Angeles in 1968. He also is a 1968 graduate of St. Louis University (bachelor of science degree).

Dr. Coleman and his wife, Sue, have three children—Michelle, 15, Suzanne, 12, and Greg, 9. Formerly of Granite City, he resides with his family in Highland.

Long interested in flying, Dr. Coleman has amassed 950 flying hours in military aircraft as a flight surgeon, and 1,150

4th federal probe conviction; 2 plead innocent

The long federal probe into Madison County governmental operations has resulted in its fourth conviction, and the first of a person directly employed by the sheriff's department. Lieutenant Gary Lee Burns, chief of detectives, pleaded guilty to perjury Monday before U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman in Springfield. Burns, 31, who resigned Oct. 24 from the sheriff's department while testifying before a federal grand jury, entered his guilty plea in return for a recommendation that he be sentenced to a term not exceeding six months in a "jail-type institution," followed by four and one-half years of probation. He is to be sentenced Nov. 29.

The negotiated sentence is believed to have followed Burns' testimony into alleged payoffs.

Capt. John Cooper, chief of field operations, and Sheriff John Maeras were indicted Friday, Oct. 27 by the grand jury in an eight-count indictment alleging they conspired with Ronald Grzywacz, who has been convicted of racketeering and perjury, to cover-up payments from operators of taverns, houses of prostitution, service stations and towing firms.

Grzywacz and fellow Madison officers Edward Golan and Richard Kriesbok were found guilty by a jury July 5 in federal court of racketeering and perjury. The judge said at the time of sentencing that he felt Grzywacz was "more involved" in activities than the other two and sentenced him to serve 12 years in prison for racketeering with a concurrent five years for perjury.

Golan and Kriesbok received seven-year prison sentences for racketeering and concurrent five-year sentences for perjury after allegations of law violations in the city of Madison. Federal Judge Ackerman pronounced the sentences.

All three are appealing their convictions and sentences. They were excused from testifying at last week's federal grand jury session on the grounds that repeating testimony which resulted in their first perjury conviction would subject them to possible additional perjury charges, thus putting them in double jeopardy.

Burns, however, is believed to have given lengthy testimony to the grand jury on at least two days last week under an agreement among Burns, his attorney, Benjamin Allen of Alton, and U.S. Attorney Gerald D. Fines.

The agreement stipulates that Burns is to give "full, complete, candid and truthful testimony before any subsequent grand jury and trial proceeding."

The perjury to which Burns pleaded guilty stemmed from testimony to a grand jury June 15, 1977, when he denied taking kickbacks from tow truck operators in return for calling them to accident scenes. He had admitted receiving a bottle of whiskey one Christmas from a towing firm.

Fines contends Burns received money and other things of value from operators of towing firms.

Burns is expected to be a witness against Maeras and Cooper, since the indictment against them also alleges they conspired to persuade Burns to give false testimony to a grand jury and later tried to get him to tell them the nature of his testimony.

The indictment alleges activities designed to confuse the federal investigation between March 4, 1976, and

GARY LEE BURNS

Madison County Sheriff John Maeras and his chief of field operations, Capt. John Cooper, were arraigned Wednesday morning in Springfield and were freed on their own recognizance pending a jury trial in Alton Monday, Dec. 11.

Both appeared in person with their attorneys before U.S. District Judge J. Waldo Ackerman and pleaded innocent to each of the eight counts of a federal indictment.

They waived a reading of the 12-page indictment, published in full in the Oct. 30 Press-Record, and Ackerman ordered them released on $10,000 recognizance bonds, which do not require the posting of cash bail.

Maeras was represented by Attorney Bruce Cook of Alton and Cooper had A. Carl Runge of East St. Louis as his attorney.

Judge Ackerman gave the defense attorneys 14 days in which to file pre-trial motions and the federal prosecutor seven days thereafter in which to file written answers to the motions.

A hearing then was set for Monday, Nov. 27, at 4 p.m. in the federal courthouse in Springfield on the motions.

Sheriff Maeras and Capt. Cooper were indicted Oct. 27 by a federal grand jury in Springfield each on two counts of conspiracy, four counts of giving false and fraudulent statements to the Internal Revenue Service, one count of subornation of perjury and one count of obstruction of justice.

Newsmakers Democrats unshaken

Criticized elsewhere for replacing a Republican federal attorney who was investigating Democratic officials, the Carter administration and Senator Adlai Stevenson — both of the Democratic persuasion — didn't make the same tactical mistake in the Southern District of Illinois. They promoted Republican Gerald Fines from acting status to U.S. Attorney, and he has been busily investigating Democrats in Madison County.

There had been much speculation about pre-election grand jury activity. And, sure enough, with the Nov. 7 election near, the county sheriff and his chief of field operations were indicted on Oct. 27.

But precisely who the indictments might help or hurt politically remains uncertain, the Democratic sheriff nominee is not a part of the Democratic organization, and won in the primary over those favored by the party.

With independents absorbed more or less graciously by the Democratic hierarchy for purposes of unity in the general election, the party is poised to capture the bulk of Madison County and district offices and also to contribute big tallies to statewide candidates.

The elected official who is thought of primarily as Mr. Democrat in this region, Nelson Hagnauer (photo at left) holds the office of Madison County supervisor as well as member of the Madison County Board and — chosen by the other members — County Board chairman.

Hagnauer is unopposed for re-election next Tuesday in the board's 20th District, assuring that he will continue as a frequent newsmaker. There had been earlier predictions by political opponents that the Nov. 7 victory would bring a conflict for Hagnauer, but a new state law enacted this

Razor blade Halloween 'prank'

Granite City police were kept busy Halloween night with reports of vandalism and egg throwing, and with investigating a razor blade in a lollipop given to a 3-year-old girl.

At 9:10 p.m. Tuesday, Don Robinson, 2602 Cleveland Blvd., told police he was checking his small daughter's trick-or-treat candy and found a lollipop wrapped in white tissue paper. He unwrapped it and found a double-edged razor blade inside with the lollipop.

He said he believed the girl got it while trick-or-treating in the 2700, 2800 or 2900 blocks of Buxton Avenue. Egg throwers were involved in two fight with motorists on Nameoki Road near Kirkpatrick Homes Halloween night which resulted in injuries to three men and the arrests of two 15-year-old Kirkpatrick youths.

The first disturbance occurred at 8:25 p.m. when Don Hahn, 3827 John Glenn Drive, Pontoon Beach, heard something strike his car at 25th Street and Nameoki Road and he stopped the car, got out and grabbed a guy nearby to inquire who struck his car with an egg.

The boys fought with him, and seven other boys joined the fight, kicking him and kicking the door of his car. Police talked to several youths and arrested a 15-year-old who pushed police and refused repeated requests to get into a squad car.

He finally was handcuffed, placed in a car and taken to the police station where he was charged with disorderly conduct and was released on a notice to appear before juvenile authorities.

Officers are seeking another youth who allegedly struck Hahn and damaged his car. Hahn suffered only minor injuries, authorities said.

At 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, two men were struck and injured during a disturbance at Nameoki Road and Pershing Boulevard after someone threw an egg at the van of

'Hey, look us over... Today's issue on new press

Today's issue of the Press-Record is the first to be published on new offset press equipment installed this year in the newspaper's building at 1815 Delmar Ave.

Not all of the technical improvements have been completed, but the look of many of the photographs in this issue gives an idea of the new appearance that will be achieved this fall.

All of the pictures on today's front page, for example, are printed by the offset method from fine-screen engravings, reproduced on the most modern type of offset plate available.

Recover stolen vehicle on levee

A four-wheel-drive vehicle stolen from Marino's Tri-City Dodge, 1911 Madison Ave., was found last week along the levee on the Madison side of the Chain of Rocks Canal, stripped of all its tires and wheels. Police said the vehicle was in the woods where it could not be reached with a tow truck. Officials of the auto dealership were requested to obtain four tires and wheels and then try to drive it out of the woods. Police confiscated license plates which had been put on the vehicle presumably by the person who stole it.

3-letter licenses popular

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon has announced that 1,760,000 reassignment and request applications were received in his office for the new 1979 multi-year license plates for passenger cars.

Dixon said this total number of applications received before the Sept. 30 deadline was 327,000 more than the combined reassignments and requests of a year ago.

Requests for specific multi-year plates, primarily those with three-letter prefix combinations, reached 755,000 compared to 259,000 last year.

Reassignment applications totaled 1,005,000 this year, less than the 1,174,000 received for 1978 plates.

School proposal being readied by Venice advisers

The Title I and Title VII Districtwide Advisory Council will meet Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 10:20 a.m. in the Venice school library, Mrs. Ila Fleg and Mrs. Charlotte Dilday, chairmen, said the discussion will center around the program proposal for 1979-80.

Comments will be made regarding its submission by Dec. 4.

Reports also will be given regarding implementation of the Basic and Pilot programs for 1979-79. Staff members have been actively engaged in reading and mathematics and in organizing field trips.

Members are Mrs. Catherine Smith, Herman Smith, Sister Barbara, Mrs. Beatrice Wigfall, Mrs. Catherine Malterek, Miss Linda Marcus, Miss Ruth Welch, Willie Hall, Mrs. Jackie Besserman, Miss Barbara Bailey, Mrs. Dorothy Griggs, Mrs. Gussie Gasper, Mrs. Alice Hahn, Mrs. Charlotte Breyer, Mrs. Joyce Odom, Mrs. Verla Arnold, Mrs. Sallie Blakely, Mrs. Lillian Mangiaracino, Mrs. Catherine McIntyre, Mrs. Catherine Brimmage and Mrs. Linda Hayden.

W. H. Williams dies at age 41

William H. Williams, 41, of 135 N. Main St., Decatur, Ill., formerly of Granite City, died at 3:45 p.m. Monday at his home.

He was employed as a custodian for 10 years at the Decatur Clinic.

Mr. Williams was born in Granite City and lived in this area until moving to Decatur 12 years ago. He was of the Protestant faith.

Survivors include six brothers, Darrell, Russell, Richard, Charles and David Williams, all of Granite City, and Mitchell Williams of Edwardsville; two sisters, Mrs. John (Nora) Von Nick and Mrs. Baby King, both of Granite City.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Rail crossing repair delayed

A shutdown of the West Pontoon railroad crossing in Granite City early this week for repair of the tracks and crossing failed to materialize as the result of objections by the city engineering department to plans by the Illinois Central Gulf railroad for track alignments and the crossing grade, it was reported Wednesday.

Monroe Brewer, city engineer, said that an on-site inspection of the crossing was made Tuesday by a group of city officials and railroad engineers, accompanied by Ray Peterson, chief railroad engineer of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Repair and replacement of the grade crossing at West Pontoon Road was ordered by the ICC after the city complained that tracks were in poor condition and presented a potential danger because five fuel oil tanks are located near the tracks. The possibility of a train derailment near the oil tanks was cited by Fire Chief Don Parente.

Brewer said the ICC plans for realignment of the tracks and a proposal to raise the grade of the tracks by three inches over the road grade were unacceptable to the city. He said the issue is being resolved and that another date will be set for the repairs at the W. Pontoon Road crossing after the matter is explained to the City Council Tuesday night.

Brewer said a revision of the ICC plans for work on the Niedringhaus railroad crossing in the downtown area also is being discussed.

ETHNIC MEETING
A meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 13, at 6:30 p.m. at the Madison Memorial Center for all organizations that had booths or stands in the Madison Ethnic picnic last Aug. 22 and 23. The purpose is to prepare for next year's event.

COSTUMES AND MUSIC are enjoyed by the residents of the Colonnades Nursing Home, 1 Colonial Drive, Tuesday afternoon during their annual Halloween party. They were served punch and cake and participated in a costume contest later in the day. Some of the residents wishing to dance were accompanied by a pianist and guitarist playing old standard tunes familiar to the residents.

Kenneth Kile dies at home

Kenneth Kile, 26, of 7400 Burckle Drive, Hazelwood, Mo., brother of a Granite City resident, died at his home at 2:30 a.m. Wednesday.

He was born in Fayetteville, Ark., and served with the U.S. Navy. He attended Madison schools before the family moved to Missouri.

Mr. Kile was employed as a serviceman for the Kroger Co. in their warehouses.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Marian Kile; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas (Mary) Fedak of Granite City and Miss Mickey Hale of Wichita, Kan.; and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Irene) Hale of St. Louis.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Halloween parade for Brownies

Brownie Troop 281 of St. Margaret Mary School dressed in masquerade costumes for a Halloween party and parade planned by the leaders, Mrs. Beverly Lenzi and Mrs. Diane Gonterman.

After the parade along the streets near the school Sister Marilyn Theresa and Mrs. McCarran, teachers at the school, judged the costumes. Ribbons were awarded to Gina Spiroff, dressed as an Indian princess, as the most original costume; Michelle Wachter a majorette, prettiest and Lisa Kuit, a clown, and termed the funniest.

Free suspects in Ellington shooting

Two men who were held in the St. Clair County Jail at Belleville as suspects on the gang-style slaying of Don Ellington, 47, of Collinsville, have been released after questioning, but the investigation is continuing and is close to being resolved, Major Case Squad investigators disclosed today.

One of the suspects who lived in the State Park Place area was arrested last week and was released during the weekend. The other, a 33-year-old O'Fallon, Ill. man, was arrested Tuesday and held briefly in the St. Clair County Jail for questioning.

Major Robert Lowery of the St. Louis Metropolitan Major Case Squad expressed disappointment over the setback, but said several arrests in the case are expected soon.

He said investigators are convinced there was a conspiracy to kill Ellington in what appears to be a fight among criminal elements over control of prostitution in Southern Illinois.

Ellington was shot to death Oct. 22, apparently after he met someone on a side road off Interstate 55 in Jefferson County, Mo., near Festus. He was shot three times in the head. Investigators said a gun that Ellington usually carried in a paper sack on the front seat of his car was not found.

Lowery said investigators believe there is a link between Ellington's slaying and the shooting two days later of Dennis McIntosh of State Park Place who was admitted to Belleville Memorial Hospital Oct. 24 with a bullet wound to the abdomen.

Police say they have learned of a meeting between four men in late August or early September in which it was agreed Ellington should be killed. Two earlier attempts to lure Ellington to his death failed, once when Ellington failed to show up and another time when the men who planned to kill him lost his car in traffic.

"We anticipate that we will make at least one more arrest in the next few days," Lowery said.

Ellington was a bartender at the Cahokia Downs race track and was business agent of the East St. Louis Bartenders Union.

Mrs. Rosamond Johnson dies

Mrs. Rosamond Johnson, 63, of 2842 State St., ill for three months died at 9 a.m. Wednesday at Belleville Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient one week.

She was born in East St. Louis and resided in this area 30 years.

Mrs. Johnson attended the First United Presbyterian Church. She currently served in the office of warder of Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, and also belonged to Gabriel Shrine 78, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, the Ladies Coterie and Circle of the church.

Her husband, Walter J. Johnson, died May 16, 1975.

Survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Luella Schumacher of O'Fallon, and Mrs. Hazel Criss of Cahokia; five nieces and one nephew.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Halloween party for Girl Scouts

A Halloween costume party was hosted by Mrs. Millie Bains for Girl Scout Troop 275 of Niedringhaus School, during the weekend.

The festivities began with an apple bob. The girls participated in a story hour of "spooky" tales and played games followed by Halloween treats. At the close of the party, a discussion of Halloween safety hints was held by the leaders.

Coal plant may be state breakthrough

State energy officials are hailing a new coal burning pilot plant project at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station as a breakthrough toward increased use of Illinois' vast coal reserves. Contract signing ceremonies between the Institute of Natural Resources and Combustion Engineering, Inc., project developer, were held Tuesday 31 at the institute's offices. Rep. Joe Lucco (D-Edwardsville), chairman of the Illinois Energy Resources Commission, said the $8.3 million fluidized bed boiler plant to be built will demonstrate a technology with "the potential to reduce the nation's dependence on foreign oil, as well as boosting the state's economic health by increasing sales of its coal resources for use in an environmentally acceptable fashion."

Frank Beal, Director of the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources, said the Great Lakes project "is intended to demonstrate a more efficient and less costly way to control the air polluting sulfur that is released in the burning of Illinois coal, thus making use of this fuel more competitive with other fuels."

"It is vitally important to demonstrate practical ways to meet our energy needs while maintaining the quality of our environment."

The Illinois Energy Resources Commission authorized use of $750,000 in coal development bond funds as the state's contribution to the Great Lakes project.

The Illinois Institute of Natural Resources will serve as administrator for the state's role. Other project participants represented at Tuesday's contract ceremony were the U.S. Department of Energy and the U.S. Navy.

According to Lucco, "In the fluidized-bed boiler, coal is burned in a mixture with limestone, which captures the sulfur that is released from coal during combustion. Sulfur emissions into the air therefore are far less severe than in conventional coal combustion systems."

After a test period, the boiler is to be used for a period of at least 2½ years to provide heat for buildings on the naval training base. The Navy expects to use 15,000 tons of Illinois coal each year in the boiler, and may enlarge the system to meet future requirements.

Governor's top problem might be voters' apathy

By KEN WATSON
SPRINGFIELD

Suddenly no one's talking about Big Jim for president. It's probably the best thing that's happened to him since the arrival of Samantha Jayne.

For Gov. James R. Thompson, 42, is now free to concentrate on a great challenge to his still embryonic political career — winning re-election as governor.

It is, perhaps, a sad commentary on the political climate of our times that a governor's chances of being re-elected in his own state should increase as interest in him as a potential next president of the United States decreases.

But that is what appears to be happening in Illinois.

A year ago it was virtually taken for granted beneath the Statehouse Dome that Thompson, a landslide winner in 1976 for a two-year term would be re-elected in the return to four-year governors. Democrats, in fact, were having trouble finding a candidate to run against him before Comptroller Michael J. Bakalis decided to take up the challenge.

Thompson's outlook remained bright through spring and most of the summer. But by late July some doubts that he was as invincible as had been thought began to arise. Then came the great petitions fiasco which cast the governor's race in a new light.

It is now regarded as close and probably yet to be decided.

Even before the petitions uproar there were indications that some Illinois voters were becoming annoyed with what they considered Thompson's White House pretensions before he had proven himself as governor.

Thompson, chiefly because of his frankness in discussing his presidential ambitions, contributed to this feeling. The governor did frequently point out that newspapermen were constantly asking him about the presidency and that he, himself, never brought up the subject.

But in an era when "new faces" in politics are the popular thing, Thompson, 42, was attracting national attention. Magazines and influential newspapers in Washington and New York invariably mentioned him when speculating on possible GOP nominees for 1980.

But in recent weeks Thompson's name has disappeared from such articles. The petitions mess and the spreading realization that his re-election is far from a sure thing were undoubtedly the major reasons.

Even before his retreat from the national scene became evident, Thompson had stressed in replies about his presidential chances that they would not exist at all if he did not succeed in being re-elected governor.

In an unpredictable political year that has already seen election surprises in half-a-dozen states, Thompson has wisely been concentrating on his home front. He stayed away from the recent National Governors Conference, which would have produced more speculation about his presumed presidential plans. Also, out-of-state speaking engagements, abundant a few months ago, have virtually vanished from his weekly schedule.

Instead, Big Jim has been pounding the Illinois campaign trail like a candidate for sheriff and with an intensity surpassing that of two years ago when he was little known Downstate. Far from adopting a lofty stance like a man with his eyes on the White House, Thompson has begun hitting back at Bakalis with a fervor that would do justice to a meeting of the Springfield City Council.

There is some feeling in political circles that young Mike, 46, has been getting by with some raps at Big Jim that would get him 15 yards in the NFL.

For instance, repeated insinuation by Bakalis and his running mate, lieutenant governor candidate Dick Durbin, that Thompson somehow is to blame for high home utility bills is sort of like blaming Jack Brickhouse for the Cubs' collapse.

It is becoming more and more a brass knuckles campaign and the Bakalis-Thompson thrusts and counter-thrusts might even jar the voters out of their presumed apathy.

Bakalis, whose two previous statewide election triumphs attest to his skill as a campaigner, has been cleverly exploiting the obvious mood of an electorate cynical about all holders of public office and inclined to replace them with somebody else.

The fact that Bakalis himself has spent almost 10 years in elective office and is currently state comptroller is largely irrelevant. For many potential voters do not even know there is such an office as state comptroller. To many of them the boyish-looking Bakalis, actually only two years younger than Thompson, is just someone running against the present governor.

Ordinarily voter indifference and cynicism resulting in a low turnout at the polls would be expected to benefit the incumbent. But not in Illinois where the more disciplined Democrats are more likely to vote than are the minority Republicans and the decisive block of independent voters without whom no GOP candidate can win in this state.

Republican strategists have tabbed voter apathy as a big problem and Thompson has taken off the gloves in an effort to keep in his corner as many as possible of the voters who gave him a million plus plurality two years ago.

Thompson does have several things going for him that incumbents in other states do not. He has had less than two years to establish a record as governor instead of the usual four. Illinois voters, on the whole a fair lot, can perhaps be persuaded that Big Jim has done a good job so far and deserves more time to fully prove himself.

He also has a valid talking point that he succeeded a Democratic governor, who managed to get a state government into such a mess that he was bounced by his own party in the primary.

Big Jim's big hope is that he will be able to reach enough of the voters. At least he no longer has to convince them that he is really not running for president.

Concert by band

The SIUE School of Fine Arts and Communications will present the University Band and Wind Ensemble in concert Sunday (Nov. 5) at 7 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Marcel Ann La Reau will conduct the University Band. She is a visiting lecturer in the SIUE department of music. James Cochran, also a visiting lecturer, will serve as conductor for the Wind Ensemble.

Gordon Jacob's "Old Wine in New Bottles" and Kenneth Alford's "Colonel Bogey March" will be performed by the musicians.

Other selections in the evening's program will include "A Jubilant Overture" by Alfred Reed, "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor" by J. S. Bach, and "First Suite in E-Flat" by Gustav Holst.

"Toccata" by Girolamo Frescobaldi and "The Rakes of Mallow" by Leroy Anderson are included in the presentation.

The concert is open to the public at no charge.

Members of the University Band and Wind Ensemble from Granite City are:

Michael A. Kelly (saxophone); James Vaughn (percussion); Beth Potillo, (flute), and Robin Robertson (bassoon).

Witches, goblins march in annual Halloween 'classic'

Area children dressed in masquerade costumes as witches, goblins, ghosts, cartoon characters, clowns and other characters participated in the annual "monster classic" in downtown Granite City Tuesday night sponsored by the Granite City Moose Lodge 272.

A panel of judges rated the costumes and selected first, second and third-place winners for the "best dressed," "funniest" and "most original."

Serving as judges for the autumn parade were Associate Judge William Johnson, Acting Captain Elmer Trapp of the Salvation Army, and B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools.

Dan Seitzer, Moose parade chairman, and Moose Governor Boyd Presley, assembled the contestants in the front of the City Hall at 7:15 p.m. Leading the parade through the downtown area were the Rolling Nobles of Ainslie Shrine Temple.

Preceding the parade, the Women of the Moose, Chapter 247, gave each parade participant a number for identification by the judges.

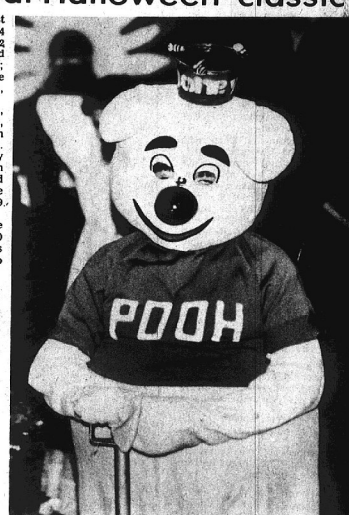

In the best-dressed category, Pam Montgomery, 3100 Mockingbird Lane, won the first-place award, dressed in a southern belle costume. Second place went to three "monsters," Ricky Schur, 4765 Warnock Ave., and Ronda and Shiril Miller, Rural Route One, Granite City.

Dressed as a clown, Tammy Wroten, 1822 Spruce St., won the first-place honor in the funniest division; Melissa Keltner, 2304 Iowa and Jane Chestain, 2512 Center St., wearing big bird costumes, took second place; and Tina Williams, and Marcee Williams, 2417 Dewey Ave., placed third.

Sheila Noel, 1811 Spruce St., captured the first place prize in the most original category. Second went to John Henry Goodman, 107 Briarhaven Drive; and third was awarded to Margie Ballard, 2406 State St., and Marsha Fisher, 2809 Center St.

Members of the Women of the Moose Chapter presented 40 silver dollars to youngsters as consolation prizes after the top awards were announced.

WINNIE THE POOH. Sheila Noel, 1811 Spruce St., placed first in the most original category at the annual Halloween Parade, sponsored by the Moose Lodge 272, Tuesday night. She captured the top award in the most original costume category during the annual event held in downtown Granite City, which attracted over 75 contestants under the direction of Dan Seitzer, Moose Lodge chairman.

Radman case Military overseas mail urged

A suit filed by Willie Radman against the city of Madison and Mayor Mike Sasyk over property at 321-327 Madison Ave., Madison, will be heard at 9 a.m. Friday in Edwardsville by Associate Judge Philip J. Rarick, it was announced at the Madison City Council meeting Tuesday night.

Radman is trying to prevent the city from tearing the buildings down.

Radman alleges he entered into an oral agreement with the Madison mayor to purchase the building and property.

Sasyk has denied the allegation.

City Attorney Casper Nighoshian told the council he believes the judge will dismiss the suit.

Mayor Sasyk, with the council concurring, appointed William Crnkovich to the city Playground and Recreation board; and George Amish, Shirley Greer, Julia Voloski, Elvers Johnson and Crnkovich to the Community Development Committee to serve until April 30, 1982.

The city council approved continued cooperation between the city and the Madison County Community Development program.

The council further approved the city entering into agreement with 12 other cities, under the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors, to form a local government services not-for-profit corporation for the purpose of operating and maintaining cooperative programs of insurance, self-insurance and risk management.

"This is not obligating the city to accept any insurance, but by joining together we will be able to get quotations on hospital and other types of insurance. We still have the say as to what we want to accept or reject," Mayor Sasyk told the council.

"I want to let the council know that I received word that action on our UDAG (Urban Development Action Grant) we applied for will be either approved or disapproved Friday or the first part of next week," Sasyk said.

The group sang at a convocation at Illinois College, Jacksonville, and at Plainfield High School Monday and then performed at Prairie State College, Chicago Heights and Hinsdale South High School of Darien, as well as taking part in an afternoon choral workshop at Hinsdale South. Selections included "Six Chansons" and the suite from "King Arthur."

Career growth issue— don't miss the daisies

By MARY BRASE
Daywood Burnsted never had it and Harry Truman never had it. But for the rest of the "nine-to-fivers," the dilemma comes along with the paycheck. "How do you please the supervisor and yourself and get the job done?"

Experts believe it can be accomplished by teaching people to manage their own careers and by taking responsibility for their own personal growth. The result is often better job satisfaction or career adjustment for the worker, and improved performance for the organization. Typically, most organizations require employees to prepare an annual plan setting forth measurable personal performance goals or set standards for the employee, according to Ed Leardi, head of organizational training and development in the Personnel Office at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Employee performance is subsequently evaluated against these goals or standards, usually by a superior.

Although these work plans may include developmental training experiences designed to improve job performance, their purpose is primarily organizational benefit.

Because they stress performance evaluation and provide few incentives for employee involvement, pure work planning methods tend to be resisted by employees, especially in academic settings, he said.

Experience suggests that the most effective planning methods may be those which strike a balance between work planning and developmental planning. "It sounds simple, but it is successful," Leardi says.

Veteran of a new career development program being introduced at SIUE, he adds, "I've been through the program twice, and I have faith in people being able to manage their own personal growth and improve job performance."

Leardi will introduce the idea to SIUE, in a pilot program for 20 employees of the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs, in a day-long workshop Nov. 17. Using individualized learning packets, participants will be able to identify their own values and skills and compare them to job requirements. The final step is an individual plan for self-improvement.

A large part of the program depends on the supervisor's cooperation, Leardi said, but "what supervisor is not going to help an employee sincerely interested in self-improvement?"

The workshop also prepares the employee to go back and talk to the supervisor in a developmental discussion which is unlike the typical performance appraisal, he said.

Defensiveness is minimized or non-existent; communication is thus improved.

To accomplish it all, the learning begins before the workshop when both the employee and the supervisor fill out special booklets identifying skills.

Workers analyze their own skills, identifying their strengths and weaknesses, along with the skills they think are important to the job. Supervisors fill out similar analysis booklets.

Then, during the workshop, the employee compares the ratings and can see what development is needed and where it should begin.

Leardi emphasized that the program does not threaten employees because the skill assessment booklets remain under their control. And they decide whether to discuss the results with the supervisor.

The workshop will also help employees identify their personal values—what "better" means to them.

Some find that they are in a job that is completely wrong for them and may decide to change careers. Others get some ideas for modifying their present job to make it more satisfying or rewarding.

Small things like flexible working hours or more responsible work can make a significant difference, Leardi believes.

The final step is a plan for self-improvement the employee can devise and later discuss with the boss. A follow-up on the results is scheduled a year later, but the process of self-improvement need never end, its supporters say.

An 85-year-old woman, who came to the realization too late, has her thought included in a poem at the end of one of the workshop booklets. In part, she says:

"If I had my life to live over, I would start barefoot earlier in the spring and stay that way later in the fall. I would go to more dances. I would ride more merry-go-rounds. I would pick more daisies."

The idea of the workshop is to help people manage their own personal growth so they don't miss the daisies the first time.

MHS career conference
Madison High School junior and senior students were able to obtain first-hand information concerning more than 30 schools and companies at the school's "Career Day" program Wednesday afternoon.

The afternoon began at an assembly in the auditorium with brief remarks by the school administrators.

The students then had the opportunity to pick four areas to visit, ask questions and obtain literature.

Schools and companies represented included: Eastern Illinois University, Belleville Area College, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Sanford Brown, Robert Morris College, Hickey School, First National Bank in Madison, McKendree College, Illinois State, FBI, Illinois Bell Telephone, Shell Oil Co., St. Elizabeth Hospital, Gradow School of Laboratory Technician, Belleville Area College Registered Nursing, Saint Luke's Hospital School of Nursing, SIUE Nursing, State Community College, Granite City School of Beauty Culture, Illinois Business and Technical School.

Air Force, Army, Marines, Navy, David Rankin School, BAC Technical Welding, Bailey Tech, Conales, Urban League and A. O. Smith.

More cars are damaged by acid
Reports Tuesday of two cars damaged by acid in the parking lot of Granite City High School.

South brought to seven the number of such reports received by Granite City police since the GCHS North-South football game Friday night.

Pauline Alex, 380, Lake Drive, Lot 310, Pontoon Beach, said she thought the acid had been thrown on the hood and left front fender of her car during the football game.

Michael Schleicher, 2440 Hemlock Ave., said he believed his vehicle was damaged in the lot Oct. 20, when acid was thrown on the hood and left front fender, police related.

ASSAULT IS CHARGED
Dennis Hicks, 22, of 2708 Harding Blvd., was arrested early this week in Kirkpatrick Homes and was charged with assault. Thomas J. Bailey, 1705 Kirkpatrick Homes, alleged Hicks threatened him several times during the weekend.

Hicks was released on $35 cash bond.

Air traffic upsurge requires bold action now, group says

H. J. Haberecker of IMPACT today called for "realistic look at what is happening at Lambert Air-" port."

IMPACT is an organization composed of businessmen and political leaders from the Missouri and Illinois areas of metropolitan St. Louis.

It is dedicated to preserving as long as possible Lambert field, St. Louis' present airport, and building St. Louis Intercontinental Airport at the federally-approved Columbia-Waterloo site in Illinois.

The acronym stands for IMPACT: International Progressive Airport Creation Taskforce.

"With airline traffic throughout the U.S. booming, IMPACT feels it is absolutely essential for leaders in the St. Louis region to now take a realistic look," Haberecker said.

"Airlines are requesting more than 40 new routes to or from the St. Louis area."

Regulatory Reform Bill of 1978, signed last week by President Carter, portends far greater growth and many more new routes than experienced to date.

"Already, a number of land owners around Lambert are irate due to increasing aircraft noise — having filed lawsuits and held demonstrations. Residents around Lambert are impacted by noise levels defined as excessive by federal law."

"It is important, however, to recognize that the $11.4 million federal grant for improvements announced Oct. 26 merely provides funds to carry out projects planned to years ago and approved by the Federal Aviation Administration in 1970."

"These improvements — essential though they are — fall far short of the construction set forth in the Parsons Master Plan to replace."

"It should be remembered that Secretary of Transportation Brock Adams warned 19 months ago that, even with the Parsons proposals, the St. Louis area airport would be faced with a reduction in air service by the mid-1990s because of Lambert's limitations."

"Since the secretary's warning, air traffic has grown far faster than anything he envisioned."

"If St. Louis does not move now, it is likely air transportation will be lost by St. Louis to other cities, including Kansas City, which United Airlines says 'has the propensity to grow into an operation to relieve O'Hare.'"

"Leaders of the St. Louis region should not be misled by optimistic forecasts of future expansion on future capacity increases at Lambert when, in fact, currently planned improvements are basically for passenger convenience and will provide little added capacity."

"Los Angeles, Miami and Denver are moving ahead with plans for their entirely new jetports."

"Atlanta is engaged in major expansion of its airport, which already is far larger than anything possible at Lambert and has at the same time also recognized the need for a new airport."

"And, of course, Dallas and Fort Worth are realizing enormous returns from the move to forget their regional rivalries and build a new airport."

Surely those who are truly interested in a strong economic future for St. Louis will recognize that similar bold action is the only thing that will keep the St. Louis region from losing out on the opportunities now being opened up by the start of the new era in air transportation."

Jobs services visits are due

Job Service representatives of the Illinois Bureau of Employment Security from the Illinois Department of Labor will call on owners and operators of many Quad-City business firms next week.

The Job Service contact teams will visit firms which have not actively used Illinois state services Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 6, 8 and 9.

The services are provided at no cost to the employer or job applicant, it was explained.

Representatives of the Job Service will explain what services are available to the employer, such as the referral of qualified applicants to fill specific needs, job tax credit for employers, the federal contractor job listing program and the Work Incentive (WIN) and On-The-Job Training (OJT) programs and many other employer services.

Employers who are not contacted by the representatives may secure further information by calling the Granite City Job Service office, 1820 Cleveland Boulevard, 451-5796, or Granite City WIN office, 25 Namecki Village Shopping Center, 451-2600.

The film tomorrow is provided by Planned Parenthood and is entitled, "Parenting Concerns: The First Two Years." Each film will be intended to generate discussion and be of interest to young families in the local area.

During the film, families may select volleyball and/or swimming until 9 p.m. The Brown Bag Film Festival is available without charge and is open to all young families in the community. For additional information Quad-Cityans may call the YMCA at 876-7200.

Health fraud detection program is ineffective

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) this week released a report showing that the principal Medicaid fraud detection system funded by the federal government has failed to work.

The General Accounting Office report was made public by Percy, ranking Republican of the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, and Sen. Sam Nunn (D-Ga.), vice-chairman of the panel. It said that Medicaid Management Information Systems (MMIS) in three states — Ohio, Michigan and Washington — were of little use.

The GAO said that the identification system, supported with 10 percent federal funds, is "underdeveloped, ineffective and of unproven value."

The concept behind the MMIS program is to have computerized checks on billing by all health care providers under the Medicaid program, including physicians, druggists and hospitals. This checking device, if it worked, would turn up double billing, overbilling and other fraud and abuse, involving taxpayer money.

Percy, noting that the Subcommittee had held hearings on the program two years ago at which MMIS failures were first brought to public attention, said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare reminded him of the three monkeys who hear no evil, see no evil, and speak no evil.

"Here we have a problem that has been squarely before this agency for two years and yet nothing has been done to make the system work. It's as if they just didn't want to know about the problem, let alone do something to correct it."

Leaf burning in M-V area

Leaf burning policies in Venice, Madison and Pontoon Beach follow the same guidelines, according to city officials.

No burning of any type is allowed on the streets because most of the streets are asphalt or oiled and burning of leaves damages the streets.

Persons in the three communities may burn leaves on their own property in a trash pit or a burning barrel.

Leaves should be burned in small piles to prevent accidental fires if high winds come up, authorities said.

All fires must be attended by the person burning the leaves until the fire is out.

Festival for young families at 'Y' Friday

The Tri-City Area YMCA is featuring a "Brown Bag Film Festival" this Friday, Nov. 3, at 6:30 p.m.

The festival is designed for young families who bring a sack supper and participate in family games, swimming and a family film.

The film tomorrow is provided by Planned Parenthood and is entitled, "Parenting Concerns: The First Two Years." Each film will be intended to generate discussion and be of interest to young families in the local area.

During the film, families may select volleyball and/or swimming until 9 p.m. The Brown Bag Film Festival is available without charge and is open to all young families in the community. For additional information Quad-Cityans may call the YMCA at 876-7200.

Jim Kueker, 1604 Spangman Ave., Kueker and two others in the van, Marty and Gary Hoerle, 2650 Edwards St., located a boy in Kirkpatrick Homes and accused him of being the one who threw the eggs at the van and Kueker alleged the youth struck him on the head with a quart beer bottle.

Gary Hoerle also was injured in the disturbance and the two were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital. Kueker, 31, suffered cuts in his cheeks and abrasions to his face. Hoerle suffered cuts to his face and skull. Both were released after treatment.

Police later arrested another 15-year-old Kirkpatrick Homes boy and charged him with aggravated battery in connection with the incident.

Eggs were thrown on the truck of Hugh Allen, 1516 Clark Ave., by youths in a blue Ford pickup truck with a camper shell at Janday and Terrace lanes at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday. Allen witnessed the incident and obtained a license number which he gave police. They are investigating.

Silver paint was poured on the rear porch and side of the house at the residence of Greg Cude, 2328 North Blvd., between 8 and 9 p.m. Tuesday, and eggs were thrown on the front and rear walls of the home.

There also were reports at 8:10 p.m. Tuesday of egg throwers in the 2000 block of 13th Street, but police were unable to locate them or any signs of damage.

Vandals were blamed for a fire at the apartment of Ester Tucker, 3809 Kirkpatrick Homes, at 11:35 p.m. Tuesday. A clothes pin bag, cooler and thermos bottle outside a window were set on fire and Granite City firemen had to extinguish the blaze, which caused minor damage. The incident upset one member of the family who had to be taken by ambulance to the hospital.

Police were told at 7:25 p.m. Tuesday that youths in a red Volkswagen had been spraying paint on cars in the 2400 blocks of Adams and Center streets. A car of that description was stopped nearby and two youths, ages 18 and 16, were questioned.

Officers said a can of orange spray paint, which appeared to have been used recently, was found in the car, but the youths were released since no cars with paint on them could be located. The names and addresses were retained, in case damage reports are filed.

At 10:05 p.m. Tuesday, officers responded to 27th Street between Benton and State streets, where a man with a cape and wearing a mask was said to have been chasing and scaring children, but police were unable to locate the person.

Broken windows in several locations also were reported. Damage was estimated at $300 at Onk's Drive-In Liquors, 2600 Madison Ave., where a full liquor bottle was thrown through the front plate-glass window and a full wine bottle went through a window in the front door.

Six windows in a vacant house at 2214 Lee Ave. were broken, causing about $120 damage, Danny Tucker, manager of the house, reported at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

A rock was thrown through the kitchen window, screen and storm window at the home of Lonz Ray, 2411 Illinois Ave., at 6:50 p.m. Halloween Eve, and police were called to the 2000 block of Lindell Blvd., at 9:40 p.m. after neighbors heard glass breaking, but no damage was located.

Five minutes later, officers were told of vandalism in the 2100 block of Clark Avenue, but none was found.

Traffic also was a concern Halloween night as drivers disregarded the danger of speeding and reckless driving, despite small children trick-or-treating. Police issued traffic tickets to 13 motorists during the evening and night.

Halloween vandalism in Madison and Venice was virtually non-existent.

At 9:45 p.m. Tuesday a window at Harris Elementary School was broken by an egg, and earlier at 6:15 p.m. a Granite City juvenile threw eggs at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Robertson, 1710 Sixth St., Madison.

Jerry Broadwater Jr. of Granite City reported at 11:17 p.m. a car window was broken while parked at 1430 Seventh St., Madison.

"We had wonderful cooperation from parents and citizens and we of the police department appreciate it very much," Chief Ralph D. Browley said.

Police Chief Donald L. Bridick of Madison said, "I want to thank the members of ESRO (Emergency Service Radio Organization) for the fine job they did Halloween night. I also think the children should be complimented in addition to their parents in making it really a happy Halloween for everyone, including the police."

Formerly chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, the metropolitan area's council of governments, and still active on that board, Hagauer also shouldered the duties of the Madison County Democratic chairmanship in the mid-1970s after Appellate Clerk Walter "Buck" Simmons gave up the party leadership.

Hagauer voluntarily stepped down this year and Madison Alderman Christ Costoff was elected to succeed him as head of this county's Democratic Central Committee. The 50-year-old official has been supervisor since 1961 and before that was assistant supervisor for six years.

During the 23 years beginning in 1955, he has served on the old Madison County Board of Supervisors and its successor, the Madison County Board.

He has been chairman of the 29-member board since it was created May 1, 1972, after heading the previous 49-member board following the death in 1971 of Chairman Harold Landolt.

A native and lifelong resident of Granite City, Hagauer is active in many organizations and holds numerous awards.

Albert King, executive director of the United Way, lauded Donovan for "untiring work" that he put into the campaign. King said he has never met anyone who, as drive chairman, has put "so many hours of personal contacts and leg work" into a campaign. The gathering gave a round of applause to the campaign chairman.

Driver faces four charges

Darrel E. Hamilton, 22, of 1004 Reynolds St., Madison, was charged with attempting to bribe a police officer, speeding (50 miles-per-hour in a 20 mph zone), reckless driving and driving while his license was suspended after Granite City officers followed his vehicle from 14th Street in Granite City to Greenwood Avenue and Elizabeth Street in Madison Monday.

An officer alleged seeing a station wagon driving at high speed in the 2000 block of Fourth Street and followed it to McCambridge Avenue where the vehicle's right front tire blew out and the car left the roadway and went over the curb and sidewalk.

The officer alleged the car then left the scene west on Kennedy Drive and onto Greenwood Avenue, where it was stopped. The driver was allegedly asked "Would you take a bribe?" and said, "If you just drop this whole thing and let me drive home, I'll give you $125," the officer related.

ARREST ON WARRANT
Charles D. Spinks, 20, of 1319 Washington Ave., was arrested early this week on a warrant alleging criminal damage to property. Madison police arrested him at 13th Street and Madison Avenue and brought him to Granite City, where the charges were pending. He was released after posting $100 cash bond.

NORTH SIDE PAINT STORE is opened Monday morning as the owner of the store, Marshall Mueller, third from left, cuts a ribbon. The store at 1943 Delmar Ave. is the third store opened by Mueller, the other two being in St. Louis. The store offers a complete line of primers and paints for auto body applications in addition to the tools for auto body work. From left, participating in the ribbon cutting are: Fred Covington, a DuPont company representative; Kirk Pearce, salesman at the local store; Mueller; Edward Reiske, executive vice-president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Paul Schuler; Bob Allen, general manager of the three stores; and Terry O'Halloran, district manager from DuPont. The store will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Leaf burning permitted in Granite City

Its leaf burning time again, bringing up the usual question: "Is it legal to burn leaves?"

A technician of the Granite City Air Pollution Control board said that it is, under the policy followed by the local clean air board in recent years.

Granite Cityans may burn leaves, but not brush or limbs, he said.

Residents also have been warned not to burn piles of leaves on street surfaces, particularly asphalt surfaces which may be melted by the heat.

Leaf-burning policies are established by local air pollution control boards and not by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

The EPA earlier this week advised that persons with DuPont, from a passing car, leaf disposal should contact their local control boards.

WINDOW IS BROKEN
A rock fired, probably by a slingshot, from a passing car broke a plate-glass window at Morris Realty, 1907 Edison Ave., at 2:05 p.m. Monday while employees were working inside the office. Several downtown store windows have been broken recently, Morris noted.

Record $190,000 by Torch Club to the Tri-Cities Area United Way

Granite City Steel's Labor-Management Torch Club has pledged a record $190,000 to the Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign — the largest single amount ever given by one organization.

The amount surpassed the 1978 contribution of $170,000. The 1979 pledge is seen as a major factor in putting the United Way campaign over the top.

For the Torch Club, the $190,000 pledge is just part of the story. In a recent budget meeting of its board, the club voted to earmark a total of $227,750 for 18 different causes in 1979 — including the United Way.

Its largest single recipient other than the United Way is the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, which will receive $55,000 next year.

Increases were announced for seven other organizations — the Easter Seal Society of Southwestern Illinois; Lewis and Clark Lung Association; Arthritis Foundation-Eastern Missouri Chapter; 5-0 Club of the Society of Retired Members; American Cancer Society-Scholarship Foundation; and Parents for Special Education.

The Torch Club, which began as the 30 Minute Club in 1952, will surpass the $2 million mark in giving with its 1979 budget. It is funded by GC Steel employees through voluntary payroll deduction contributions.

Over 3,000 employees support the club, with deductions ranging from a half-hour's pay to two hours' pay per month. A campaign to sign up new members for the Torch Club is now under way.

Injured On Lake Drive

Miss Deborah LaVelle, 18, of 2419 Morrison Road, was injured when her northbound auto struck a tree on Lake Drive in Nameoki Township last week. She was taken by a friend to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted with a bump to her head and multiple contusions to both legs.

Bar reaffirms Cohn only one being recommended for judge

In the Third Circuit, Gerald B. Cohn (R) is recommended and William E. Johnson (D) is not recommended.

The candidates were rated on lawyers' responses to six questions which could be answered "yes," "no" or "no opinion." The questions are as follows:

1. Has the candidate adequate legal ability? (20 points)

2. Has the candidate adequate legal experience? (10 points)

3. Is the candidate courteous and considerate? (10 points)

4. Would the candidate be deliberate and fair-minded in reaching conclusions? (15 points)

5. Would the candidate be industrious and prompt in the performance of judicial duties? (10 points)

6. Have you confidence in the candidate's integrity? (35 points)

Points on each question are determined by using the percentage of "yes" votes to the total of "yes" and "no" votes. If the total points from the six questions equal 80 or more (out of a possible 100 points), the candidate is recommended for the office.

GERALD B. COHN has been recommended by the Illinois State Bar Association on the basis of integrity, legal experience, judicial temperament, courtesy, promptness, fairness and impartiality. His opponent

Indian summer great in '78; garden tasks for November

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Gardening Adviser
The 1978 version of "Indian summer" has been great for gardeners and plants. Frost-tolerant vegetables are still growing, and most perennial fruit plants appear to be hardening off in good condition.

November will bring most garden activities to a halt, but the following activities may yet be taken care of:
—Mulch strawberries after the plants are dormant but before the temperatures drop below 20 degrees. This is usually after mid-November but before Thanksgiving. Mulching will prevent winter injury to the plant and should make for cleaner berries next spring.

—Cut asparagus tops after they have been frosted or leave them stand all winter to trap the snow.
—Check for mouse populations around fruit trees and plants. Their presence will be noted by tunnels, holes, or nibbled fruit, in which case you will need traps, bait stations, or a good cat.
—Make provisions for controlling mice in fruit and vegetable storages. Warfaring-type baits are effective as long as the bait is kept dry and available to the rodents.
—Dig up and pot a plant of pansy, chives, or other herbs for winter-time growing in the sun-room or cold frame.
—Store pesticides in a clean, dry, safe place. Dry materials and powders will retain their effectiveness if kept dry. Liquids should not freeze. Keep storages locked to prevent any accidental openings.
—Clean tools and equipment to prevent rust and corrosion. Make repairs now so that everything is ready for the first day of spring.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Venice library to show movie

The movie "Hans Christian Andersen" will be shown at the Venice Public Library on Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 7 p.m. Admission is free. Danny Kay stars and will take the audience into the beautiful world of magic and make believe in the famous classic story.
The movie is two hours in length and a library spokesman said it is entertainment for all ages.
—Prune or spade the garden for an early start next year.
—Collect soil samples from garden areas that haven't yielded up to expectations or where you need to know the nutritional levels.

Boy forced to give money to 3 teenagers

Three teenage boys face juvenile court action for allegedly forcing a 15-year-old boy to give them money and jewelry from his parents' home on several occasions, including last week.

The 15-year-old victim told police that Thursday night, one boy grabbed him by the neck, threatened to kick him and demanded money. The victim went into his home in the 2800 block of Edwards St. and got some money for the strongarm robber, who was accompanied by two other boys.

It was disclosed that in several such robberies, the victim gave the boys about $80, a roll of quarters, three rings, including a diamond ring, and two wristwatches.

Police arrested three boys, ages 15 and 16, who admitted the robberies and agreed to return the money and jewelry, officers said. The boys are to meet with city juvenile authorities.

LOOT BEER COOLER

An undetermined amount of beer was stolen from an outside cooler at the American Legion, 1825 State St., last week. A lock was pried from the door.

Tavern owners re-elect Hester

Charles Hester of Granite City, owner and operator of Charlie's Restaurant in Granite City, was re-elected president of the Madison County Tavern Owners' Association during the group's October meeting at Charlie's.

Other officers installed were Bill Woodrome of the Pack-Em-Inn, executive vice-president; Connie Almos, secretary and public relations; Minnie Brown, treasurer and membership chairman; Victor Reznack of Victor's Tavern, sergeant-at-arms; and Anthony Anselmo of Tony and Joe's Tavern, Southern Illinois chairman for the Sky Ranch for Boys and chairman for special events.

Vice-presidents installed were Dave Clark of American Legion Post 113 for Granite City; Ardieth Decker of Collinsville; Phil Stassi for Alton and the northern portion of the county; Marvin Doctor for Maryville and Edwardsville; Julie Golman of Madison, Ed Gorman for Glen Carbon and the unincorporated areas of the county.

Reports were given on the recent 33rd annual Illinois State Tavern Owner's Association meeting held in Decatur, at which Bert Nickerson was retained as state president.

Speakers at the state event included Secretary of State

Alan J. Dixon, State Sen. Sam M. Vadalabene, representatives of the brewers and distillers and of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Department of the Treasury.

Convention site and legislative directions were outlined for the next year. Of interest to the local members was the growth of the local association, which was 156 percent, the largest increase throughout the state.

This membership drive was a result of the work of membership drive chairpersons Chester Whyers and Minnie Brown, winning the trip to the National NLBA Convention in Las Vegas Nov. 5. There will be approximately 28 local members attending the convention. Featured speakers for the four-day event are Bernard Maline of Time Magazine; Father Dale Kutil from Sky Ranch for Boys; Sheldon London, Attorney; Paul C. Dufek, N.L.B.A. executive director, and Robert Maxwell of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

During the county meeting, it was announced that the association has raised $5,000 for the Sky Ranch for Boys, due largely to the efforts of Anthony Anselmo, who chaired the fund-raising. Sky Ranch Boys in Sturges, S.D., is supported solely by the liquor industry.

The Illinois Liquor Association is the largest contributor to the foundation.

The Nov. 14 meeting is to be held at the Fireside Inn and the Dec. 5 meeting will feature "night at the races," at Fairmount Race Track, sponsored by the local membership, the Palst Blue Ribbon brewery and Palst distributors.

Featured races are to be named in honor of the Madison County Tavern Association, with several races being named for the distributors and other members who participate. Plans are to televise the featured race and presentation.

The race night is an annual event with dinner, admission, program, tax and tips in one package price. The time and price will be displayed in the local members' taverns. Profits from the function will be donated to the Sky Ranch for Boys.

The date and place also were announced for the 1979 Tavern Owners' Dance, which will be held Friday, May 4, 1979, at the Madison County Firemen's Hall in Collinsville.

Members were requested to participate in the March of Dimes drive.

Tickets on sale for benefit dance

Tickets still are available for the eighth annual benefit dance sponsored by the Granite City Society for Crippled Children, set for Nov. 18 at St. Mary's Engelbert Hall, 10th and Alton streets, Madison.

The cocktail hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7 and the dance from 8 to 12, according to the planning committee. Music will be furnished by The Rhythm Pipers, they added.

Tickets costing $7.50 per person may be purchased in advance at Michel Jewels, 1825 State St., or from Mrs. Lily Chaboude or Mrs. Barbara Watts. Tickets also will be sold at the door on the night of the event.

Special honors will be accorded to Roger Higgins, president of the Chamber of Commerce and manager of Nestle Tea Co., during the evening, the committee announced.

St. Gregory to sponsor special film showing

A film showing of "Sons of Sassoun," an adventure story about a fight for freedom in 1908, will be presented under the sponsorship of the St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic Church Sunday.

The movie is to be shown at the BAC Cine Theater, Route 111, Roxana, at 4 p.m., and is to be shown only once at the theater.

The presentation is a fund-raising project of the church. Tickets will be $3 for students and children and $5 for adults. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mary Asadorian at 452-5393 or at the door.

The story involves a thirst for freedom as the Sultan, the invading dictator, attempts to colonize Caucasia. The story is filled with action, love, comedy, music and dancing, a spokesman said.

The cast has as the hero "Manuel," a singer; Lana Wood as the village school teacher and Peter Lorre Jr. as the chief of police and other stars.

It includes five songs, featuring "And We Were in Love," written by Academy Award Winner Paul Francis Webster.

Navy Mothers donate $25

A donation of $25 to be given to the Specialized Services Center's Christmas party was approved by members of the Quad-City Navy Mothers at a social meeting held at the VFW Hall.

First Vice-Commander Irma Manning presided at the business session. Final plans were announced for the chicken and dumpling dinner set for Saturday, Nov. 11, at the Moose Lodge, 19th and Adams streets. Serving will be from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and tickets costing $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children will be available at the door.

Hostess for the evening were Mrs. Edna Miller, Edna Bardley and Gladys Markovich. They decorated the tables in keeping with the Halloween season and served a dessert course after the meeting.

Mrs. Hazel Jones won the mystery prize and other awards went to Cassie Finley, Edna Miller and Mrs. Manning. The next meeting is set for Nov. 9 at the VFW Hall.

Baptist classes host dinner meet

The Adult 2 Sunday School Classes of Third Baptist Church attended a chili and hot dog supper during the weekend at the church.

Table decorations were carried out in a red and white check gingham motif with burning red tapers centering each table. Mrs. Jerome Kirkpatrick served as chairman of the food committee.

Harvey Moore was master of ceremonies and Bob Modglin offered the meal blessing. Entertainment including skits, games, poems and songs were led by Mrs. Julia Carmack, Mrs. Bob Peterson and Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Blum, Mrs. Helen Cagle, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eggsmeyer, Mrs. Mae Hendrickson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kirkpatrick, the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Johnson, Mrs. Robert Modglin, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson, and Mr. and Mrs. John Popelchak.

Hosts apple picking event

The special events committee of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ arranged an "apple knock'n" event for the young people of the church this week at Eckert's orchard in Grafton.

Two hay filled trucks left the church grounds at 1:30 p.m. Sunday for Grafton, and later in the evening the group returned to the church for a chili supper served by Mrs. Ruth Bravre and Mrs. Rosalie Bunte. Monday and Tuesday members of the church gathered to make apple butter which will be sold at the annual sausage supper on Wednesday, Nov. 15.

The remaining apples will be prepared for apple sauce the following week and served with the sausage supper.

Those attending the outing include Diana Anderson, Jeff Roth, Shannon Lamb, Mary Cavins, Skip Kidman, Ron Krueger, Sue Krueger, Robbie Favier, Bill Friedman, Walter Volkmar, Norma and Lela Soehlig, Greg Mason, Jack Brinkmeyer, Arline Brinkmeyer, Kevin Braundmeier, Stephanie Schank, Ellen Range, Craig Cavins, Scott Buenger, Bill, Mary, Shelley and Sarah Chrystal, Ann and Eric Scott, John and Aline Graham, Bob

Chouteau Halloween party attracts 500

The first annual Chouteau Township Halloween party was held early this week with approximately 500 persons attending. Walter "Dick" Sparks, township supervisor, welcomed everyone to the party.

Trustees Steve Novosel, mayor of ceremonies, announced poster winners from the schools and introduced the first prize winners.

Awards were given by Johnson School — first, Mike Crow, second Keith Payne, and third, Kathy Angle. Mitchell School — first, Steve Jacobs, second, Susan Walton, and third Jane Hicks. Also, Arthur Menendez, principal of Mitchell School, gave honorable mention prizes to Cindy Allen, Stacy Thomason, Pam Nolen and Julie Jones, Debbie Brandt, Kathy Hutchings and Leslie Tindall.

South Roxana — first, Connie Swain. Thanks were given to the principals for allowing the sixth graders to make the posters. Novosel thanked those who donated to the party — Luna Cafe, Jack-in-the-Box for the clowns and the cotton candy machine, State Radio, Gordon Routh and the Mitchell Athletic Club.

Thanks also were given to those who served on the various committees and those who helped in other ways to make the party a success, including Mel Simpson, Betty Lavelle and Bob Morris, judges for the costumes.

Prize winners in that category were:

Pre-school — first, Christi L. Kalls, second, Tabitha Milam, and third, Jim Petrowski. Kindergarten to age 7 — first, Steve Schiller, second, Cory Lamm, and third, Anissa Swearingin. Ages 8 to 10 — first, Michelle Thomason, second, Mike Fenoglio and third, John Pryor. Age 11 and over — first, Melissa Groves, second, Mary Chambers and third Randy Barton. Entertainment was provided by Skinny Stroud and Company. Refreshments were served, games were played and treats were given to each child.

Autumn events of Jr. Scouts

Junior Girl Scout Troop 891, sponsored by St. Joseph Church, have attended several events arranged for the fall months by leader Mrs. Barbara J. Boyer.

The initial project was a wienner roast at Wilson Park in September with mothers Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Bowers and Mrs. Nebl assisting.

In October the troop went on a field trip to Losch's Pumpkin Farm where they enjoyed a hayride and brought a pumpkin home. Mrs. Boyer was accompanied by Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Jarnagin and Mrs. Bush. The following week patrol leaders were installed during a regular meeting held at the church. Those installed were Elicia Bush of the Pochontas Princess Patrol, Donna Partney of Daisy Patrol, and Michele Vasiloff of the Lovely Lassies Patrol.

To celebrate the Halloween season, the troop visited the Jaycee Haunted House and later went to Burger Chef for refreshments.

Those attending were Carolyn Alexander, Dawn Bowers and Mrs. Bowers, Donna and Dianne Partney and Mrs. Ruth Partney, Lisa and Laura Nesbit and Nesbit, Michele Jarnagin, Susan Schaus, Dawn McKinney, Dawn, Donnie and Andrew Kamadulski and Mrs. Kamadulski, Monica Reznack, Alyssa Line, Kim Crow, Theresa Frazer, Elicia Bush, Michelle Stuart, Kathleen, Laura, Jennifer and Patrick Boyer and Mrs. Boyer, leader.

Fortcoming events include an investiture ceremony for new members, Carolyn Alexander, Dawn Bowers, Kim Crow, Theresa Frazer, Valerie Garcia, Michele Jarnagin, Alyssa Line, Dawn McKinney, Susan Konkovich, Susan Schaus, Michelle Stuart, and Monica Reznack, on Nov. 8. The current troop members will participate in a rededication ceremony and repeat the Girl Scout promise. For a Thanksgiving day service project, the troop will make trays for the pediatrics ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

FRED MCCOLLEGANS NAME SON SEAN Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. (Susan) McColligan, 1605 Wellington Ave., are announcing the birth of a son on Oct. 27, at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. Dead dogs cause walkout at Nameoki highway department

Nameoki Township Highway Department employees returned to work this morning after a half-day walkout yesterday over unsanitary conditions caused by a broken freezer full of dead dogs near the highway garage.

Highway Commissioner Frank Melicic contended the township's humane officer and Supervisor Harold Davis refused to act on complaints the last several days that dead dogs picked up by the humane officer had been allowed to accumulate in the freezer and were creating a stench.

Melicic said the smell caused several of his employees to become ill and they had to leave work to go home. Yesterday morning, the highway employees, members of Teamster's Local 525, called their business agent to the scene.

The B.A. Dave McFarland, gave township officials until noon yesterday to remove the dogs or the employees would leave work. A rendering company was called, but the truck did not arrive until 5:15 p.m., so the highway workers left the job at noon and did not return until this morning.

Melicic said the problem is not solved yet, since the broken freezer, now empty, continues to create a stench and he has given the supervisor until noon today to have the freezer cleaned or removed, or the workers will leave the job again.

"We have even offered to go dump the freezer for them, but I have not heard anything back," Melicic stated this morning.

Convicted in stabbing case

A jury in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville has found John Derr, 19, of 2037 Illinois St., guilty of aggravated battery.

A co-defendant, Tommy Hughes, 21, of Granite City, was found innocent by the jury.

Derr allegedly stabbed Gary Lewis, 23, of 2026 Bryan Ave., in Derr's apartment Aug. 14 approximately 37 times, according to testimony at the trial.

Lewis underwent surgery and is recuperating from his injuries. Assistant Madison County State's Attorney Stephanie Robbins presented the case before Circuit Judge A. A. Matosian.

Sentencing will be in about 30 days, after a pre-sentence report is completed.

Back is broken

Arthur Greenblatt, 72, Joplin, Mo., an employee of Tri-State Motor Transit, suffered broken bones in his back and other injuries when the cab of a truck he was working on fell on him Wednesday.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:40 a.m. Wednesday and was admitted with several broken bones in his back and injuries to his chest and right leg.

increase. For the 1976 swimming season, the cost of water usage and sewer fee was $9,800.

"At the beginning of the 1978 season, over $2,000 in materials was used to recut the pool and lower that cost to $2,700. Most money must be spent next season on such repairs for the pool to open for the 1979 swimming season."

In recent years, the swimming facility has operated on a conditional license granted by the Illinois Department of Public Health due to the fact that certain portions of the pool were not in compliance with minimum standards established by that department.

"Not including the amount listed above for repairs to the present facility, it was operated at a deficit to $69,339 for the past seven years for an average loss of $9,077 per three-month season. Judging from recent attendance figures, repairs and improvements made to the facility, there still exists a 38-year-old pool which barely meets the minimum health and safety standards, with severely cracked walls, patched, deteriorating plumbing and inadequate deck area."

"After safety tests and deficit figures showed that a new facility needed to be constructed, the Board of Park Commissioners selected an advisory committee made up of businessmen and Granite City to decide what should be done to alleviate these problems."

"Members of this committee visited numerous conventional swimming facilities in the St. Louis area and talked with pool operators throughout Illinois."

"After these visits and conversations, it became apparent that conventional swimming pool facilities are not self-sustaining operations. Five architects were then interviewed by the members of both the Park Board and the advisory committee."

"One of the architects interviewed informed the Park District of the concept of the Wave-Tek swimming facility, and the advisory committee felt that the Wave-Tek swimming facility deserved more thorough investigation. A Wave-Tek pool located at Decatur, Ala., which is in its eighth year of operation was visited by two members of the Park Board, architect Bryce Hastings of the Hastings-Chivetta Architectural firm of Clayton, Mo., and a member of the Park District staff."

"After inspecting and experiencing this swimming facility, the Board of Park Commissioners and members of the advisory committee felt that any type of new facility to be constructed must meet three criteria:

"(1) Be self-supporting.
"(2) Provide a recreational opportunity to citizens of the park district not offered by any other facility in the area.
"(3) Be innovative and imaginative."

"The Wave-Tek concept meets these requirements.
"Total family recreation is offered by Wave-Tek pools. With a water depth that goes from eight feet at one end to nothing at the other, the pool will be ideal for helping younger children adapt to the water."

"The wave-making machinery is housed in a soundproof room behind a 10-foot waterfall at the deep end of the pool."

"When the four 75-horsepower electric motors are turned on, they generate air compressors which alternately create a series of waves every three seconds. Current plans are to run the waves for 15-minute periods separated by 15-minute intervals of calm water."

"Swimming lessons and other swimming programs will be conducted as usual, with the wave-making machinery turned off."

"Rubber flotation rafts will be available at the site for those interested in floating on the waves."

"Persons may also body-surf in the pool, but, no surf boards will be allowed. This pool is not designed for conventional surfing as are some other types of wave pools and lakes."

"The largest waves in the pool are three feet tall. And as the depth of the pool increases, so does the size of the waves. By the time the waves reach the shallow portion of the pool, they are little more than small, gently rolling hills of water."

"Studies made of existing Wave-Tek pool facilities, 11 operating in the United States, six more under construction, and over 100 pools operating in Europe, show that middle age to elderly people who may have not been in a public swimming pool are returning to the Wave-Tek pools."

"Rather than the common ratio of children-to-adults of 8 to 1 found at most conventional pools, this ratio drops to 3 to 1 for the Wave-Tek pool. Therefore, the number of adults enjoying this new type of aquatic recreation greatly increases over the usual swimming facility."

"Safety factors built into the pool design make it in many ways safer than a conventional pool."

"For instance, most of the pool is less than five feet deep, and the shallow end allows youngsters to play in water just a few inches in depth."

"Rather than the typically have 'shallow' depths of three feet or more. 'The dressing rooms and locker facilities designed for the Wave-Tek pool will be used in conjunction with the ice rink located in Wilson Park."

"This will assist the participants in general, public skating sessions as well as those involved in hockey and figure skating programs and will make portions of the proposed facility a twelve-month, rather than a three-month, operation."

"Other items to be included in the bond issue election include additions to and expansion of the playground facilities at Wilson Park, the resurfacing of tennis courts at Wilson Park, the construction of two tennis courts and a basketball court at both West and West Granite Parks, and the enclosing of the ice skating arena at

Wilson Park

"The present playground equipment located in Wilson Park was installed in the late 1950s. There exists a definite need to replace and update the existing equipment to meet federal and state safety standards."

"The new playground proposed for Wilson Park would be located in the same area inhabited by the present facility."

"Besides being an expanded area including modern equipment, and additional picnic facilities, the playground will also include a therapeutic area with specially designed equipment for use by handicapped persons who may have difficulty using general purpose playground equipment."

"Tennis has become such an important facet of recreation for both young and old that the Park District now employs a tennis court supervisor who reserves courts in one-hour periods to residents of the Park District."

"For this reason, the courts at Wilson Park receive heavy use and are in need of repair. The cracks and low areas which are common on the existing courts must be repaired and four of the courts need to be resurfaced."

"In addition, new tennis and basketball facilities are to be constructed at Worthen and West Granite Parks to serve the needs of the people residing in those areas."

"In 1960, residents of the Granite City Park District approved a bond issue election by four-to-one to construct an ice rink in Wilson Park. This ice rink debt was retired in December 1976."

"With the severe winters we have encountered during the past few skating seasons, attendance has shown a significant decline during periods of extreme cold."

"The enclosing of the rink and the heating of the spectator area would help to alleviate this problem and help to bring increased public attendance; increased programming time for both public sessions and athletic competition."

"Increased spectator participation. The Board of Park Commissioners has shown improvements, the Granite City Board of Park Commissioners has applied for an improvement grant in the amount of $200,000 which could be used for additional improvements or to help satisfy the debt incurred by the passage of the bond issue election."

"With the addition of these bond issue items, the Granite City Park District will maintain its reputation as one of the top recreation and park agencies in the state and will become a leader in the field of community recreation."

"Members of the Board of Park Commissioners of the Park District staff are available for public speaking engagements with groups of interested citizens concerning the various aspects of the bond issue."

"Appointments can be made to have a representative at a meeting by contacting Sue Champion at the Wilson Park office at 877-3625."

'Hotline' for cold weather, highway data

Illinois State Police will provide weather and road condition reports on special phone lines between now and April 15 of next year.

The service, operated each year, offers motorists regularly updated information about highway conditions throughout Illinois, with special attention given to local winter driving problems.

Captain Albert Bertagnoli, Maryville District commander, today advised the public in this report to call 345-1350 for the report.

"We encourage motorists to use the weather phone line, especially during severe weather conditions," Bertagnoli said.

Tax cut drive kickoff Friday

A tax-cut petition drive kickoff will be held at 9 a.m. Friday at the Sandwich Shop, 214 W. Main St., Collinsville.

James L. Tobin and Georgia Shields will participate with local organizers.

There is only one candidate for governor pledged to tax on Friday, Nov. 3, at 9 a.m. — Georgia Shields, Libertarian.

I urge every Illinois voter who wants tax cuts to show politicians that taxpayers will vote high-taxers out of office," she said today.

FRENCH ARTIST
On Oct. 23, 1906, French artist Paul Cezanne died at the age of 67 years.

Yates followed the man on foot into Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center. Officers arrived and arrested Odell Fields, 38, near Schnucks grocery in the shopping center and charged him with theft.

A car matching the description of the one which left the scene was seen at 27th and Benton streets and was chased by squad cars east on Fehling Road, south on State Street, east on 24th Street, across Madison Avenue to East 24th Street, south on Kate Street and west on East 23rd Street.

A squad car blocked the street at East 23rd Street and August Avenue and the officer got out of his car and aimed his service revolver at the driver of the rapidly-approaching auto, it was reported.

The officer alleged the driver laid down in the front seat, lost control of the car, which nearly struck the squad car at the roadblock.

The driver then allegedly got out and ran on foot west on East 23rd Street. Police chased him and fired three warning shots at him before stopping him at East 23rd Street and Hall Avenue.

Force was necessary to subdue the man, police alleged. They identified him as Ronald E. Burroughs, 32, St. Louis, and

Arrest two in tire theft
Two St. Louis men were arrested after six new tires were stolen from Yates Mobil, 1999 Nameoki Road, at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

A lengthy vehicle chase was required to stop one of the men, and the other was arrested on foot in the Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center. Officers arrived and arrested Odell Fields, 38, near Schnucks grocery in the shopping center and charged him with theft.

Real estate course Nov. 22

Basic Real Estate Transactions, presented by Real Estate Education Co. and co-sponsored by the Illinois Association of Realtors, will begin Nov. 22 at the Howard Johnson's Motor Inn, Route 137 and 155, Collinsville. The 30-hour course must be successfully completed before being allowed to take the Illinois real estate salesman's licensing exam.

Joseph Kelleher, Edwardsville attorney, will conduct the course. Classes will meet from 7 to 10 p.m., on Wednesdays for 10 weeks. A home study program is also offered for those who are unable to attend classroom sessions.

Pre-registration is required for the course. For further information and registration, Quad-Cityans may call Real Estate Education Co., toll-free at (800) 922-4582, or write to the company at 500 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60610.

Animal adoption clinic

The monthly Animal Protection Association adoption clinic will be held Saturday in new quarters at 2851 Washington Ave., with both cats and dogs offered for sale between 9:30 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The APA also is planning a white elephant sale at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in Granite City on Nov. 11. Quad-Cityans wishing to make donations of items, excluding clothing, may call 877-4594 or 878-1436 for information. Animals that will be available for adoption at Saturday's clinic include a number of kittens, both male and female in various sizes and colors. Also available is one female cat with black, short hair. Dogs include a three-month-old female pup, black, part Pekinese and part terrier; one

Seek change in area's air quality category

The organization for Involvement and Management of Advance Growth and Employment (IMAGE), composed of industry, labor and contractor associations in this Illinois metropolitan area, will petition Gov. James Thompson to change the air quality designation of this area from Class II to Class III.

The association, which includes Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties, has determined that some of the regulations of the Clean Air Act are an unwarranted deterrent to industrial growth of the region, a spokesman said.

In an attempt to eliminate the threat, IMAGE, with the cooperation of nearly all segments of the population, including a supporting resolution, from the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors, conducted a petition drive, the spokesman added. The results of this drive will be presented to the governor by a delegation from IMAGE with the request that the change in air quality designation be made.

The proposal would not permit the area to exceed the National Air Standards, but would permit an expansion by industry, the spokesman said.

IMAGE was founded early this year for the purpose of improving the construction reputation of the Illinois region.

More women in office but can Sharon Sharp defeat Dixon?

SPRINGFIELD — At a recent Springfield political gathering that included candidates from both parties, Sharon Sharp was berated by a Democratic legislative candidate for waging a "most despicable" campaign. In an earlier era such a denunciation would probably have resulted in tears and a quick trip to the ladies' room to regain one's composure. But to Sharp, Republican candidate for secretary of state, it was probably the greatest compliment since Mabel was asked to the senior prom. "It shows we're getting to 'em," explained an aide. He was referring to the drumfire of charges that have been leveled by Sharp in recent days. How effective they have been in putting some steam into the so far lackluster Sharp effort remains to be seen. That the Sharp campaign needs a boost — and a big one — is not to be denied. On the Illinois political front she is considered far and away the most likely Republican candidate for statewide office to lose on Nov. 7. But now a few scattered doubts are cropping up about Dixon. It's not that any of his top aides are pushing the panic button or indulging in that old Statehouse practice of quietly lining up a future job in case the voters send the boss packing. There is, however, an increasing sensitivity if not nervousness in the Dixon ranks not heretofore apparent. The campaign may not be as easy as previously thought and the prospect of another landslide victory may not be quite as bright as before.

There is another element involved. If Dixon's recognized ambitions for higher office are to be realized, he must not only win this election, he must win it big. This is especially so since his opponent is a virtual political unknown and a woman. Women have not fared well in state elections in Illinois. But is this, perhaps, a good year for a woman to be running for an important office? Because of the long, drawn out and continuing legislative battle over the Equal Rights Amendment, women in Illinois could be more politically conscious than ever before. In the view of some political strategists, Democratic slatemakers goaded when they failed to back Nina Shepherd of Winnetka for state treasurer. The organization did not want to Jerome (Jerry) Cosentino of Chicago. He subsequently beat back a primary challenge by Shepherd, but she made a strong showing. Some Republicans are pointing out to women voters that their state ticket has two women candidates, while the Democrats have fielded an all-male slate. In addition to Sharp, Republican Jane Rader of Cobden is a candidate for re-election to the University of Illinois board of trustees. Are women voters sufficiently interested in politics to make a special effort to cast a vote for one of their own regardless of other political considerations? No one knows for sure, but the possibility is an intriguing one. There is no question that the role of women in Illinois government has been expanding in recent years. As late as 1972 there were only four women in the legislature's total membership of 235. Until then only 38 women had been elected to the legislature in some 150 years. But then the tide began to turn. As a result of the 1972 election women membership increased to 11, eight in the House and three in the Senate. In the current legislature women hold 20 seats, 17 in the House where members are elected every two years, and still three in the Senate where there is only one woman in Illinois' 24-member Congressional delegation, Democrat Carole Collins of Chicago. Democrat Jeanne P. Quinn is a candidate in the 6th Congressional district, but is given little chance against Republican incumbent Henry J. Hyde. The last woman to win election to statewide office was the late Mrs. Earle B. Searcy of Springfield, who was elected clerk of the Supreme Court in 1936 and 1962. Women have been most successful in winning election to the U. S. House. There have been 18 women members.

Gamma Epsilon enrolls eight

The Delta Kappa Gamma International Society is an organization for women that promotes excellence in the profession of teaching. Membership is by invitation to those who have successfully demonstrated their abilities as teachers.

The Gamma Epsilon Chapter of Madison County initiated eight new members in ceremonies held at the First United Methodist Church of East Alton.

Two Granite City women were among the group, Mrs. Mildred Collins, head of the home economics department at North High School, and Mrs. Mary Davis who is band director at Prather Junior High School.

Other initiates were Mrs. Velda Armes, Troy, physical educator; Mrs. Jane Boss, Edwardsville, elementary music; Mrs. Jeanne Eardley, Highland, senior high school nurse; Mrs. Donna Harkey, Bethalto, special education; Mrs. Rosemary Mueller, St. Louis, East Alton-Wood River gifted program director; and Miss Barbara Thompson, Bethalto, gifted program director.

Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Davis join with Mrs. June Mills, counselor at North High School, and Mrs. Anita Ertimoff, resource teacher at Johnson School, as representatives from the southern portion of the county to the Gamma Epsilon chapter.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha state convention

The Holiday Inn, Mount Vernon, Ill., was the scene of the 30th annual Illinois State Convention of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, International last week. The host chapter, Alpha Iota, Mount Vernon, used the theme "Hillbilly Country."

"Hillbilly Hoedown" mixer party. The well planned evening included square-dancing, singing, and hillbilly skits by different chapters.

The first general assembly featured Gennie Haralson, president of the ESSA International Council, who gave an informative message.

The "Golden Links" banquet was held in the evening. Vi Ohlmeier, O'Fallon, was presented as "southern queen" candidate, and Thelma Kueker, Troy, as "southern princess," as were the newly elected officers.

The second general assembly followed, and Troy chapter received awards including the educational awards certificate, certificate of attendance, installation award for their new chapter, Sigma Kappa, New Baden. Perfect attendance award at all state functions went to Katie Randal, Troy, and Vi Ohlmeier, O'Fallon. Thelma Kueker, and Katie Randal were given an award of merit for over forty hours donated to St. Jude Research Hospital.

This well attended convention was represented by local chapter members Vi Ohlmeier, O'Fallon, Fran Zehring, Fran Harris, Belleville, Marge Crouch, Granite City, Thelma Kueker, Katie Randal, Troy.

DAR division meeting held

Members of Drusilla Andrews Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, of Granite City, attended the Division VI meeting during the weekend at the Carriage Inn in Altamont, Ill.

The James Halstead Jr. Chapter of Robinson, hosted the 18 chapters of the division and Mrs. Victor L. Smith, division director, presided.

Reports of chapters and projects in progress were given by regents. The local regent and genealogical chairman, Mrs. Emma Schoen, reported that Grandparents Papers for the chapter were almost completed. These papers make research of family lines more economical for public use and also provide privacy for first and second generation members.

The DAR Library of Washington, D.C., the Newberry Library of Chicago, the Illinois State Historical Library of Springfield, and the area DAR Library of Vandalia have volumes of Grandparent Papers from all areas where DAR is represented.

Publicity, in many chapters, is difficult to receive from their local newspapers. The Granite City Press-Record gives excellent coverage of events, Mrs. Schoen noted. Only one other chapter reported good coverage.

Ella Ray Smith, national defense chairman, and Mrs. Florence Simpson, constitution week chairman, of Granite City also attended the meeting.

The next general meeting of Drusilla Andrews Chapter will be held Nov. 18, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church Parlor. Reservations for the Dec. 9 joint Drusilla Andrews-Ninian. Edwards meeting at Altamont may be made at the next session. Mrs. Roland C. White, state regent, will be the speaker at Altamont, it was noted.

Elkettes yule bazaar Sunday

Handmade holiday gift items and an unusual exhibit of house plants will be featured at the second annual Bazaar and Tea, Sunday afternoon, sponsored by the Elkettes Club.

The fund raising project will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. in the lodge room of the Elks, and is open to the public, according to the Rev. James McNeely, Chaplain.

Club President Phyllis Grimm added all arrangements for the tea are under the direction of Marge Huker, Olga Koenig and Mildred Jungels.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. George Land from southern Illinois.

He will deliver sermons at 7 o'clock each evening and special gospel singing also will be presented during the worship hour, Rev. McNeely added.

REINHARDT-Realtor Sells-BETTER LIVING

MR. AND MRS. JOHN BULVA whose wedding took place at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison. Formerly Miss Bonnie Fisk, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisk, 1124 Iowa St., Madison.

(Hollywood Andrews Studio)

St. Mary's Church scene of Bulva-Fisk wedding

The wedding of Miss Bonnie Fisk, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisk, 1124 Iowa St., and John Bulva, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bulva, of Madison, was solemnized Sept. 22 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Madison.

Father Ralph Scherrer officiated at a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. before an altar decorated with bouquets of mums and baby's breath. A program of wedding music was furnished by Jim Havranek and he also accompanied Alicia Hendrickson as she sang "Sometimes," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length gown designed with a white organza bodice and gathered floral skirt. Escorted the guests to their seats were Roger Bulva, the groom's brother, and Bud Bury.

Guests were received by the newlywed couple at a reception held at the Crofton Hall in Madison.

The bride graduated from Madison High School this year and is currently attending Gradwohl School of Laboratory Technicians, in St. Louis. The groom is a 1974 Granite City High School graduate and is working at Granite City Steel.

Maid of honor was Vicki Bonk and bridesmaids included Dorothy Holt, Judy Hall and Kennetta Bulva, a sister-in-law of the groom.

They were identical gowns in rainbow colors blue, rust, pale blue and apricot. The dresses were designed with pleated A-line skirts, long open sleeves and high drape necklines, complemented with matching picture hats.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of miniature carnations and daisies intermingled with baby's breath and greenery.

The flower girl, Rachel Davis, a niece of the bride, was dressed in a long white eyelet frock created with full sleeves and a double ruffle skirt.

She wore a bandeau of white carnations in her hair and held a basket of rose petals.

Trey Fisk, a nephew of the bride, served as the ringbearer. The groom chose, Paul Bonk as best man, Bill and Victor Bulva, brothers of the groom, and Tom Fisk, brother of the bride, were groomsmen.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. Fisk wore a formal polyester floral gown featuring a scoop neckline and long sleeves.

Mrs. Bulva, the groom's mother, selected a long dress designed with a white organza bodice and gathered floral skirt.

Escorting the guests to their seats were Roger Bulva, the groom's brother, and Bud Bury.

Recommendations in Nov. 7 election include Percy, Dixon, Thompson, Scott, Castle, Skelton, Price, Vadalabene, Wolf, Steele, Cohn, Toffant, Sparks, Partney, Webb and Whitsell

U. S. Senator Charles H. Percy (R) next Tuesday, Nov. 7, deserves re-election — and not just because he has committed himself to the construction of a much-needed traffic overpass at the 19th Street railroad crossing in Granite City.

His unique blend of business, economic and governmental expertise aids all taxpayers, and it is no accident that Senate Leader Robert Byrd often chooses the Illinoisian as his bipartisan co-sponsor for important legislation.

Sen. Percy is not perfect, as his opponent has been saying frequently, but neither are the other senators. And we have no assurance that the other party's Illinois nominee would do nearly as well, despite his fast moves to get behind presumably popular positions and short-range remedies.

"Chuck" Percy can perform invaluable service during the next six years in keeping government manageable, eliminating the costly burden of no-longer-needed agencies, balancing the federal budget, reversing import-export trends that threaten Americans' living standard, fostering labor-management cooperation to modernize industry and create jobs, easing property taxation through block revenue apportionment, restoring the equity market, and focusing the nation again on the kinds of research, education, production and values that have made it great.

Governor James R. Thompson (R) may or may not be presidential timber but he has done an effective job of stabilizing the state government at a time when it had been driven to the brink of insolvency.

Despite the limited time he has had in the current one-time-only two-year span mandated by the State Constitution, the former court clerk and state prosecutor has provided a calming influence. And he has shown an ability to cooperate with the Democratically-controlled legislature for citizens' benefit.

Comptroller Michael Bakalis (D) is an energetic campaigner who at times "shoots from the hip" without assessing the full impact of his proposals. He did not impress area educators or the State Education Board during his tenure as state superintendent, and might bring back too much of the Daniel Walker era's conflict-ridden confrontation tendencies.

For the comptroller post that Dr. Bakalis is vacating, the Democratic nominee is attractive in many respects, but also renews thoughts of the inept Walker administration, in which the candidate headed the Department of General Services.

John W. Castle (R), who left the Thompson cabinet (Local Government Affairs Department director) to run for office this year, is a strong advocate of openness in government. He opposes his comptroller opponent's acceptance of campaign gifts from welfare, medical providers, and promises inter-departmental statistical analyses as tools to improve decisions.

Illinois Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon (D) is the pride of the Madison-St. Clair counties region, with a conservative executive-legislative-judicial elective service despite his relative youth. He has a record of consistent economy and efficiency.

Accomplishments by Secretary Dixon have included stepping up efforts to curb auto theft rings, issuance of multi-year vehicle license plates, establishment of a personnel code within the office, and inclusion of photos and medical information on driver licenses.

Attorney General William J. Scott (R) is another of the state's perennial big voters, getting with a long record of distinguished service. Seeking a fourth consecutive term, he recently won the right to aid grand juries statewide, and has a long-parallel record in actively representing individuals' interests in consumer, environmental, anti-trust, sales ethics and charitable fund-raising issues.

Questions raised about use of past campaign funds have not been sufficiently resolved at this point to justify any significant altering of public confidence in a man widely regarded as the best state attorney general of all time and of any state.

The Democratic candidate for state treasurer is receiving a lot of favorable attention for his plans to maintain and expand the community service program — depositing of state accounts in banks that agree to provide funds for social purposes. But financial institutions increasingly say this is a somewhat cosmetic approach that hasn't caused much difference in their already-diverse loan policies.

James M. Skelton (R) has a sound grasp of the treasurer office's investment challenges — it is the state government's largest single source of non-tax revenue — and proposes to maximize state interest in a manner fair to each area.

He would continue to encourage "putting state deposits to work" through local loans, and would strive to help create jobs and stimulate the economy in each region. His election would give a bit of Democratic weight to state officials heavily tipping toward the Chicago end.

For three six-year University of Illinois trustee positions, with six holdover Democrats remaining on the board, three Republican incumbents are recommended — former board chairmen, Park Livingston, Ralph C. Hahn and Mrs. Jane Hayes Rader. Their respective board experience of 24, 12 and six years can help trustees during the quest for a successor to departing President John E. Corbally.

Congressman Melvin Price (D) of the 23rd District, dean of the Illinois delegation in Washington, is chairman of the Armed Services Committee and an acknowledged leader on nuclear energy and other issues facing America. His diligence, knowledge, ability and integrity are vital to everyone.

Daniel J. Stael (R) has been a hard-working candidate and an able advocate of tax reforms and other policy changes. His merits praise for providing voters with a truly viable alternative, but we endorse Cong. Price.

Those who are providing competition for Madison County Board posts also deserve commendation for their efforts in the local districts where there is opposition, we favor on the basis of their records in office. Walter "Dick" Sparks (District 16), William B. Webb (District 19), Daniel J. Partney (District 21) and Louis Whitsell (District 26).

For circuit judge in the Third Judicial Circuit, Madison County lawyers in the State Bar Association backing prior to the primary endorsed two of four candidates. Of the primary winners, Gerald B. Cohn (R) was endorsed in secret balloting and his opponent was not. The Madison County Bar during a meeting Oct. 17 endorsed both Attorney Cohn and Associate Judge William E. Johnson (D). We endorse Cohn on this basis and as a means of partially balancing a mainly-Democratic elected judiciary in this circuit.

There are 16 non-vocable things to be said about the four persons who are seeking three Illinois House seats in the 56th Legislative District. All four have served now or previously as a local area state representative and all have tried conscientiously to vote as appropriately. Only three can be elected and, undoubtedly, any combination of three would serve well.

Because geography always seems to be injected into the campaign near its close, and usually prejudicially toward the Quad-Cities, we think it might be best if local residents give full three-vote support to either Sam Wolf (D) or Rep. Everett Steele (R), depending on voters' party preference, or one-and-a-half to each. There is seeking of one or the other losing out, and we would prefer to see both Rep. Steele and Wolf win, giving southern Madison County half of the four General Assembly positions.

Other than the three representatives to be elected, the 56th District will choose a senator. We recommend Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D), who has done so much for this community, both publicized and behind-the-scenes. He is such a dedicated, usually pragmatic legislator that he has earned election by a resounding margin.

Some believe the Oct. 27 indictment of a Democratic sheriff bonds bill for the prospect, Nov. 7 of another Democrat seeking to become the next sheriff. But we disagree, and say it is even more necessary than ever that Emil Toffant (D) be elected and given rather free rein by the County Board to reshape the controversial department.

A former state police district commander with vast experience and skills, Toffant is precisely what Madison County needs to "set its house in order" and instill higher professionalism and performance in its law enforcement processes.

His ideas for increased "police presence" and visibility within each neighborhood — through revised use of the staff — bring about immediate improvements in the way they do their jobs. The Democrats can't have all the good ones and the Republicans all the bad ones.

But of all the lowdown, dirty tricks, the worst is the way the Democrats have handled the state representative issue, with three running in the primary and then the defeat of one, Mr. Lucco, coming out on an independent ticket.

We all know he is a poor-loss Democrat. He is running in order to beat one of the best representatives we have ever had, Everett G. Steele. They have a good chance to put three Democrats in the State House.

The good people, regardless of your political affiliations, let's play a fair game. Let's put Mr. Steele back in the House of Representatives.

And while we are at it, let's re-elect our present governor. He is doing an outstanding job. I'm going to vote for Governor Percy, as I think he is the lesser of two evils.

Wake up, people in Madison County. Let's not be led down a blind alley by the politicians.

WAKE UP! PEOPLE IN MADISON COUNTY. LET'S NOT BE LED DOWN A BLIND ALLEY BY THE POLITICIANS.

WAKE UP! PEOPLE IN MADISON COUNTY. LET'S NOT BE LED DOWN A BLIND ALLEY BY THE POLITICIANS.

Sparks can aid sewer coordination for best system at cheapest cost

To the Editor:

I have been your County Board representative (District 16) for ten years. In that time, I have worked very hard each day to take care of all the duties assigned me, as a board member.

I am self-employed and, therefore, am able to devote full time to the business of my political duties.

In the last four years, I have devoted a large amount of my time each day working on the Madison County sewer program as chairman of the committee for planning and construction of the project.

I have been the main representative for the county in getting the project together and under construction. This has been no easy task.

I can assure that we had to go the way we did and when we did it, we would have lost the $12,500,000 grant from the state. If this had happened, we would probably have been without sewers for another ten years.

This, my friends, we just could not do without having an epidemic of some sort in our community from the pollution.

I am asking for residents' vote on election day, so I may remain on the County Board to see this most-needed project completed to the best interest of all the people.

Who has charge of the program the next four years will determine what the monetary price will be to the voters, and also what kind of service will be given.

Let me tell you, my friends, I am sure his voice will be heard loud and clear, and not by a spokesman.

Bibby says Toffant keeps quiet; maybe it's because he has a little more class, and exercises more discretion.

Toffant has all the qualifications and experience necessary for the job.

As anyone will tell you, experience is the best teacher, and a textbook theory all at pieces.

Bibby says in ads that Sheriff on age, according to an article, he is 35 years old.

Captain Toffant was out in the streets battling crime when Bibby was only four and still in wine pants.

Experience and age are wisdom. I'll take Toffant.

Mr. Bibby, you seem to be keen in asking questions. I would like for you to answer the following questions for the voters:

1. Exactly how have you lived in Madison County? Isn't it a little over a year?

2. When was the last time you were in a car in traffic?

3. Have you ever been in an administrative capacity with a large number of men under your supervision?

4. Aren't you aware Emil Toffant has been cooperating with the FBI in this Madison County investigation?

5. Aren't you aware that in the year 1967, when you were still in high school, you were employed and was in charge of the Detective Section for the Illinois State Police?

6. Mr. Bibby, you say Capt. Toffant is a man to be run by any machine.

Bibby says in his that Sheriff Maeras takes the Fifth, and Toffant remains silent. Exactly what would he have him say?

Neither Bibby nor Captain Toffant is in a position to do anything about Maeras or anyone else at this point.

Until we have a new sheriff with the power to make changes, this situation will stay in the hands of U.S. Attorney Gerald Fines and the Department of Justice in Washington, six months from now.

Madison County appear to be capable, integrity and capability are needed on the board.

He has worked long and hard for the taxpayer on the day-to-day operations of the board as well as the more visible accomplishments, like the new Chouteau Township Building to be completed by everyone from the young to the senior citizens.

Dick Sparks deserves to be returned to the County Board and the citizens of District 16 deserve to have Dick Sparks continue to serve them.

Barton critical of opponent's record

To the Editor:

With the crucial Nov. 7 election just days away, I feel that I should outline a few of my final thoughts concerning the campaign for County Board here in District 26.

People throughout our area know me as Bob Barton, the real estate man. As a small businessman, I am particularly sensitive to those problems which others like me face.

These are problems which need addressing now, before the election. Issues like government spending out of control, issues like unfair, high taxes and issues like nepotism which my opponent has publically supported.

As I have repeatedly stressed, like our families, Madison County must live within a budget.

As such, we must learn to get the most out of each tax dollar. Why then, I ask, did my opponent Louis Whitsell support exorbitant pay raises for the totally informed concerning recent allegations about sewer easements.

Obviously, these are not sentiments which he and I share. We need to put a final end to wasteful spending practices.

And speaking of wasteful practices, I believe the taxpayers have a right to know why Whitsell was conspicuous by his absence on the day the County Board voted to pay flat salaries to County Board members rather than per diem.

For quite some time, I have been asking for excessive per diem paid whenever the county politicians come up with unnecessary meetings. Yet, when the board considered this crucial issue — an issue which could save you, the taxpayers, thousands annually — Whitsell didn't even bother to show up for the vote.

Didn't Whitsell care? Perhaps the reason is that he would actually face a pay cut by shifting from per diem to a flat salary. Records show he would face an almost $2,000 annual cut in pay.

Each of us as a homeowner pays taxes on our homes, taxes levied by the county and paid to the county. Well, friends, I stand against the practice of showing favoritism when it comes to taxes.

I say that if you and your neighbor have similar homes, then you should pay similar taxes. This is only fair. When it comes to how taxes are spent, look at Whitsell's record.

Let me remind you that the recent county purchase of an $800,000 office building, even though that very building was previously appraised at $250,000.

As you can see, we are not getting our money's worth. Whitsell is partly to blame.

I have criticized my opponent's nepotism. For example, Whitsell used political influence to obtain jobs for his two daughters, brothers-in-law, his wife at the taxpayer's expense.

Whitsell's supporters say he is continuing as he learned a valuable lesson. The county bureaucracy does make mistakes and those mistakes cost all of us time and money.

That is one reason I want to be the County Board member from District 26. Using my business experience, plus my knowledge of real estate and taxes, I want to streamline county government to make it more efficient and more accountable to you, the taxpayer.

I believe we can make improvements and that we can put a stop to past practices. This job is easy, and I can't do it alone.

Together, we can make a difference, with your support. This is why I'm asking each of you to "see the light." Punch 157 for Bob Barton, for a change.

Toffant highly qualified to be sheriff

To the Editor:

After having read several unfounded ads published for the past few days, I feel it is time the public knows the facts.

The only statement of his I am in complete agreement with is that he is an honest policeman as sheriff. Luckily, we have the most qualified candidate for this position, Emil Toffant.

Captain Toffant has earned a reputation of being an honest policeman for 30 years. Toffant has years of on-the-job experience, plus years of training at FBI and police academies, and has received other training sessions, for all of which he has certificates.

Toffant has never stated that he was an FBI agent, only that he has worked and cooperated with the FBI whenever his services were needed.

He won the primary election against the men backed by the Democratic machine, not with their help.

And I do not believe Captain Toffant is a man to be run by any machine.

Bibby says in his that Sheriff Maeras takes the Fifth, and Toffant remains silent. Exactly what would he have him say?

Neither Bibby nor Captain Toffant is in a position to do anything about Maeras or anyone else at this point.

Until we have a new sheriff with the power to make changes, this situation will stay in the hands of Halloween, a time for...

The youngest,

Witches and goblins prowled the streets of the Quad-City area this week as youngsters of all ages celebrated All Hallow's Eve with parades, parties and trick-or-treating.

Activities included a parade Monday night through Pontoon Beach with costumed characters ranging from Felix the Cat to Darth Vader from Star Wars.

At far left, 17-month old Kellie Schwenker of 4604 Maryville Road brought as many smiles as the average clown at the Pontoon Beach parade.

Not to be outdone, the Granite City Township Senior Citizens' organization held a costumed ball Monday night in the senior citizens' center in Granite City, with about 250 persons in attendance. A participant reports, "A good time was had by all!"

North advances; hits stride against Redbirds, 4-0

GRANITE CITY — What a difference a month or so ago. Granite City North's soccer team was struggling in preparation for its regular season show down with GCHS South. The Steelers were playing fairly well against good competition, but not faring quite as well against the weaker teams on their schedule.

"Ever since we hit this slump, we haven't been able to pull the trigger," said Brown. "We had been getting about 25 shots on goal a game, and now we're getting maybe nine or 10."

third quarter when Kenny Myracle, off an assist from Batey, scored. Jones added his second goal of the game at the 16:45 mark, from a pass by DeMott.

In that second half, the play moved from the North end of the field to the center of the field. "We were trying to use the entire field for our attack," said Kehoe. "But sometimes our kids can't seem to realize that the shortest distance to the goal isn't always a straight line."

"Sometimes if a team will use the sidelines to its advantage, it can score more easily than by trying to stuff it down the other team's throat."

Kehoe gave an explanation as to why Tuesday's game was so vastly different from the first Steeler-Redbird contest. "Two things," said Kehoe, "the difference in the dimensions of the field and the absence of a healthy (Brad) Baker."

YBA basketball to be offered

GRANITE CITY — YBA basketball — the game that attracted more than 270 youngsters last season and nearly 100,000 nationwide — will again be offered at the Tri-City Area YMCA, Donald R. Rains, YMCA program director has announced.

Sign-ups are slated for Saturday, Nov. 18 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the YMCA gymnasium.

The concept of a "fair play" basketball program in which every boy and girl plays was developed jointly by the national YMCA and the NBA Players Association. Paul Silas of the Seattle Super Sonics is President of the Association.

YBA teams are composed of nine players and each member must play a specified amount of time. Players wear shirts with the official YBA insignia.

Registration will be limited to 300 (boys and girls). YBA players will receive their basketball patches, player handbooks written by the NBA stars and registration cards. Registration fee, which includes team and individual player kits, is $17.50.

A limited number of YBA scholarships either full or partial will be available at the "Y" for youngsters unable to pay the full amount.

For information on YBA basketball, those interested may call the Tri-City Area YMCA, 876-7200.

EDWARDSVILLE — A group of Tri-Cities Area YMCA swimmers traveled to the Edwardsville YMCA Saturday and Sunday (Oct. 28 and 29) for the AAU Invitational Swimming Meet.

The local "Y" was well-represented by Michael McCormick, who won six medals, John Amisch who took one medal and Denise Darnell who also won a medal. All are from Granite City.

Also participating from the Tri-Cities Area YMCA were Dave Oyen, Liz Oyen, Ed Lorden, Kathy Lorden, Krista Lorden, Paula Bills and Mary Brandt.

Also selected were Gary Koelters, Jim Thomas and Dave White from Quincy; Notre Dame, Jim Stein; Wagner and Bob Sova from Collinsville, and Greg Hill from Highland St. Paul.

According to plan

GRANITE CITY — Things went according to plan here Tuesday. Both Granite City high school's soccer teams advanced to the Sectional Tournament. And both did it with ease.

Granite City South breezed past Cahokia 3-0 and North exploded against Alton 4-0.

The way in which each team won was almost the same. Score an early goal, then wait for the opponent to make a mistake and capitalize on it.

The two will face each other again this Saturday at around 2 p.m. at GCHS North in the Sectional. But it won't mean elimination for the loser. The Sectional is a round-robin affair this year, meaning each school will face every other school once during the tourney. It will wind up Tuesday.

Kristoff confident about SIUE matmen

By DAVE CAUSEY

for the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Coach Larry Kristoff is once again optimistic about his squad's chances of winning the 1979 NCAA Division II championship. And justifiably so. With four returning All-Americans and another fine recruiting year, the Cougar mentor has put together a team that will be truly tough to beat.

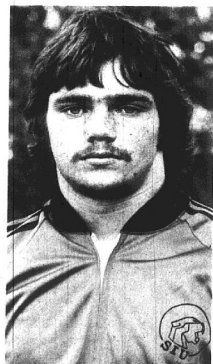

Tom Reed, fourth in the nationals last year at 118 pounds, and Terry Mulrenin, a senior two-time All-American, and a mainstay for the Cougars at 126, give the SIUE mat squad one of the best one-two punches in the entire nation.

Also to bolster the lower weights, Kristoff picked up a pair of outstanding recruits. Brett Means, a transfer from Labette Junior College of Wichita, Kan., can wrestle at either weight. Means, who gained junior college All-American honors, should push either Reed or Mulrenin for a starting berth.

Little Don Millitello, a 118-pound freshman from Roxana, also promises to be a standup for the Cougars. A local area high school ace, Millitello won the downstate sectional during his senior year.

Sophomore letterman Tim Ervin returns for the Cougars at 134. However, Kristoff has picked up a junior college transfer, Mike Lorentzen, a native of Cahokia, who could grab off that slot. Lorentzen comes to SIUE after a year at Blackhawk Junior College at Moline. Freshman Carl Lucas, a high school star from St. Louis, will also compete at that weight. These three wrestlers, each tough as nails, should fight fiercely for the starting job.

The 142-pound class should present no problem for the Cougars. Senior Dru Meshe, an NCAA runnerup and two-time All-American, should wrestle down to that weight by the time the NCAA tourney rolls around. However, he will be at 150 for

DARRELL HASTY

Kristoff early in the year. The hole at 142 will be filled by one of two freshmen, Matt Mabrey of Riverview Gardens, Mo., or Gary Dzuris, from Morganfield, Ky. Mabrey was a Missouri state champ at 126 last year. Also an excellent student, Mabrey was valedictorian of his class and was named scholar-athlete of the St. Louis area. Dzuris comes to the Cougars from the Army, where he did a three-year stint in Special Services. Dzuris was the champion of all U.S. forces in Europe at the 134-pound class last year.

The Cougars have a pair of freshmen who will fight it out for the 156-pound varsity spot. Darrell Hasty, from Granite City, third in the state at 125 last year, and Glenn Exton, a sectional champion from Roxana will compete for the Cougars at that weight. The Cougars, for nearly one-third of the season last year, didn't have a 156-pounder.

The 158-pound class will feature the ever tough Tim Napier. Last year, Napier led the team with an impressive 28-4 record. Just a junior, the Cary, Ill., native is becoming a Cougar mainstay.

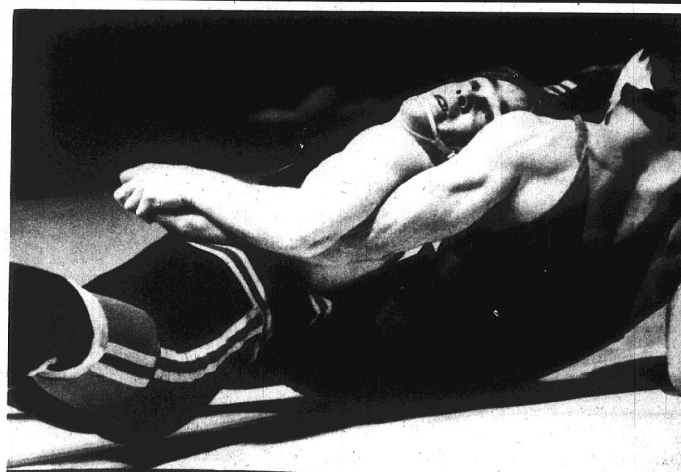

Sophomore Bill Castans returns at 167 and seems likely to hold the top spot. He will be challenged, however, by freshman Charles Shelton, from Northwest High School of St. Louis. Shelton was a runnerup at 155 in last year's state tournament.

The 197 class will present little problem for the Cougars this year. The three-time All-American and NCAA Division II runnerup Mark Hattendorf returns for his senior year. Hattendorf is one of a handful of the top wrestlers in his class. Hattendorf reached the quarterfinals of the Division I tournament last year and promises to do even better this season.

The Cougar 196-pounder will be either Norm Mitchell, a sophomore from Spring Lake, Minn., or Mark Temple, a senior, who transferred from the University of Virginia.

Heavyweight Mel Roberson, the Cougar regular the last two seasons, is out with an injury and may sit out the entire season. To fill the vacancy, Kristoff has recruited Bob Boas, a freshman from Hillsboro. Boas, a high school standout, should do a fine job for the Cougars.

The experienced Cougars could have a fine year. With hard work and a few breaks they may have an excellent shot at the NCAA Division II title.

This week's 'Guest-Guessers'

The mayors disagree Surprised?

MAYOR PAUL SCHULER

GRANITE CITY — This week's Press-Record Guest Guessers are Mayor Fred Schuler of Granite City and Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison. Why have the two mayors as football predictors? The answer is simple. The old Granite City-Madison rivalry is back.

For the first time in over 10 years, the Granite-Madison gridiron rivalry will be renewed Friday night when GCHS South travels to Madison to do battle with the Trojans.

Not unexpectedly, Mayor Schuler is predicting a Granite City win, while

MAYOR MIKE SASYK

Mayor Sasyk is forecasting a Madison victory.

"I honestly feel Madison has the stronger team," said Sasyk. "Sure, we've had some problems this season with injuries, but with a healthy team, we'll beat South."

"But it'll be close, believe me."

Mayor Schuler feels just the opposite, of course. "Anytime Granite City plays Madison in anything, you can throw the records and any previous games' scores out the window," he said. "In fact, I imagine the underdog has won the game about as many times as the favorite has."

"But this season, I feel that South has just too strong a defense for Madison to handle," said Schuler.

"They (South) are very well-coached by a former Madisonian who knows what it means to play a Granite City-Madison game. Coach Wojcik (Stan) will be able to get his team ready."

As far as GCHS North's 9-8 team traveling to Edwardsville for a battle with the Tigers, both mayors are predicting that the Steelers will get their first victory.

"Coach Wyrstek will get this team turned around yet," said Schuler. "They've had some misfortunes in the past, but sooner or later, it's got to pay off."

"I think it's going to be a similar scene as the one in Philadelphia last Sunday when the Cardinals won their first game."

Sasyk agrees. "North's overdue for a win," he said. "I don't think they're the Area preps start cage practice

GRANITE CITY — It's basketball time. Believe it or not, all four Quad-Cities High Schools (as well as the junior highs), have already held their first basketball practices or will within a week.

The first official day for high school basketball practice, was yesterday, Nov. 1. Three of the four Quad-Cities teams started on that date. The only one which didn't have an official practice was Madison, which had a try-out session, instead of a full-scale workout.

Granite City South held its first practice yesterday at 3:10 p.m. and will continue to do so until time for the first game of the season, Dec. 1 in the Bridgeport (Ill.) Tournament.

New teams on this season's South schedule include Wood River, Roxana and Mascoutah in addition to the Wood River Christmas Tournament, which the Warriors won last season (they also won the Bridgeport Tourney).

GCHS North began its practice sessions last night at 7 o'clock at the school's gym. The Steelers will hold practices at their own facility and at Memorial Gym at South, where they play all their home games.

Among the new additions to the Steelers' schedule this season is the replacement of the Wood River Tournament with the strong Breese Mater Del Christmas Tournament. Among the schools in that tournament are Madison and defending Class A state champion Nashville. The Steelers' first game is set for Dec. 1 at home against Wood River.

Madison will begin its practices Saturday at 3 p.m. in the school gym. Until then, the Trojans will hold try-outs and pre-practice conditioning. The first game for Madison will be Nov. 22 at home against St. Paul of Highland.

Among the new additions to the Trojans' schedule is a December matchup against East St. Louis Senior in East St. Louis. Venice began its pre-season workouts yesterday at 3:30 and will practice at that time until the Red Devils' first game, Nov. 28 at home against St. Paul. Among the new teams on Venice's schedule this season are Jacksonville, Stanton, Delevan and a matchup against perennially-tough St. Louis Central High.

Warriors travel to Madison while Steelers go against Edwardsville

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South will be looking to finish with a winning record when it travels to Madison to battle the Trojans tomorrow night. And GCHS North will be looking for its first victory when it goes to Edwardsville.

The Warriors, fresh from their 31-0 shellacking of cross-town rival North last Friday, will travel to Madison to battle the Trojans tomorrow night. And GCHS North will be looking for its first victory when it goes to Edwardsville.

Madison game was as important to the two teams as the North-South contest is now. It used to mean football supremacy in the Quad Cities. It'll mean a lot to both teams tomorrow night too. Coach Nick Jakich's Trojans are coming off a heart-breaking 14-0 loss to St. Jacob-Triad last week. "My guys will be up, you can believe that," said Jakich. "It's not hard to get a Madison team up for a game with Granite."

The Trojans will be trying to finish on a happy note a season which finds them with 24 record. South Coach Stan Wojcik knows what it's like to play in a Granite City-Madison game. He prepped at Madison High and played center in the football team.

Jakich also knows. He prepped at Granite City High and played against Madison. For North Coach Tom Wyrostek, the season has been a real test. He has watched as many of the few experienced players he had fell out with injuries and as a sophomore-laden team has struggled. But he has hope. The game at Edwardsville will start at 7:30 p.m. "I know that someday these guys will be tougher because of this season. I'll have most of these players back... and if they learn something from this, they'll be better because of it."

The Steelers won't be ending their season tomorrow, however, they will host West Frankfort in the season finale Friday, Nov. 10 at Memorial Field.

KEVIN BUCHANAN of GCHS North's football team (24) picks up some yardage last Friday night against South as teammate Mike Hubbard provides the blocking. Tomorrow (Friday), North will travel to Edwardsville for a game with the Tigers.

Commentary... The IHSA setup; Is it fair?

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North Sectional Soccer Tournament which began today at 1 p.m. is being played under a new format, designed by the same people who brought you the state football playoffs, the two-class basketball tournament... and only one school from outside of Chicago in the state soccer tournament.

Will the new format change that? No.

The round-robin affair which is being played at North involves the only four teams from outside of the Chicagoland area in the tournament. But as in the past, the eventual state champion will probably be playing in this sectional. At least for the past two years it has (three times in the history of the tournament), GCHS South has won the state championship the past two seasons.

The tournament participants this year are South, West North, Belleville West and Quincy Notre Dame.

South, North and Notre Dame are given the best shot at coming out of this sectional, while West is considered a darkhorse at best.

North is facing Notre Dame today at 3 p.m., while South squared-off against West yesterday's p.m. game.

Saturday, West will play North at 12 p.m. and North and South will tangle (again) at about 2 p.m. Tuesday (Nov. 7), South will play Notre Dame at 1 p.m. and North will face West at 3 p.m.

The team which emerges with the best record after the tournament will advance on to the state tournament which will be held at Hancock Stadium in Bloomington.

Is the IHSA soccer setup fair? No. While most of the soccer is played in the Chicago area, the QUALITY of soccer played in this area (including St. Louis) is better. Of course, if the St. Louis schools weren't considered, it wouldn't be.

But St. Louis schools have to be considered because they ARE here for Illinois teams to play, learn from and toughen-up on. Granite City North coach Bob Kehoe doesn't think his team would be as well-prepared for the playoffs now if it hadn't been playing the St. Louis schools he faced.

South's Gene Baker consistently has scheduled some of the toughest St. Louis Catholic (and public) schools around. Not only have the Warriors competed well, they've BEATEN many of the St. Louis teams.

But who do the Northern Illinois schools have to play? Each other. When they come south for a trip through this area, they usually go limping home with enough bruises and losses to last them another year.

But it's usually not that long before the Chicago schools get another taste of Southern Illinois hospitality. The state tourney takes care of that.

Take last season for instance. Chicago Schurz, most people have heard the name of that school at one time or another in relation to some sport. Last season the Schurz soccer team finished second in the state. Therefore, it must have been the second-best team in the state, right?

You may have a good argument, but do bother telling it to Baker, Kehoe or Collinsville Coach Jim Stranz.

On a Southern Illinois swing last season, the Schurz squad was beaten soundly by all three teams (it only scored one goal in three games). Then in the state tournament, Schurz breezed its way into the finals, beating up on its fellow Chicago teams. But in the championship game, South had little trouble with the Chicago school, smashing it easily, 6-0. It was a record for the most goals scored by one team in a championship game. It was the first shutout in championship game history.

So, when you go out to see the North Sectional this weekend, go prepared to witness the state tournament. It could well be played at GCHS North this year.

type of team that'll go winless all season."

Both mayors also agree that SIUE will defeat Indiana State, Michigan State will easily handle Illinois and Missouri will defeat Oklahoma State.

"SIU will be able to bounce back from its unfortunate loss to Northern Illinois," said Schuler.

Sasyk feels that Missouri will handle Oklahoma State.

"They'll bounce back from last week's loss (26-27 to Colorado)," he said.

"They're that type of team this season, being able to show that they can come back from a loss."

Schuler said that he feels Illinois is a year away from being a winning team. "As much as I'd like to see Illinois win," he said, "I have to think that they're about a year away from it. Yet, Michigan State is just too strong."

Both guessers also feel that the St. Louis Cardinals will do something a little different and add to a "winning streak."

"There's no question about it," said Mayor Schuler. "The Big Red will win. The Giants alive, they have had a taste of victory and they like it."

Sasyk agrees. "They're going to play an even better game against New York," he said. "They really didn't dominate Philadelphia, but they will do it against the Giants. They'll play even better."

'Cannot afford alternatives to corporate personal tax'

Dick Lockhart, coordinator of the Illinois Committee Against Replacement Taxes, charged Tuesday that abolition of the personal property tax on corporations in Madison County would cost schools and all other units of local government in the area more than $13.5 million in projected collections.

"The worst part of it," said Lockhart, "is that if the legislature fails to act, this loss of revenue could result in an increase in everyone's real estate tax to fill the gap."

Lockhart noted that a present state constitutional provision calls for abolishing the corporate personal property tax.

"However," he said, "it also calls for the legislature to replace the tax with new taxes."

"On the November blue ballot, the voter will be called upon to make this choice:

(1) retain the personal property tax on corporations, or

(2) abolish it to be replaced with three new taxes now before the legislature.

"If people want to avoid these new taxes, they should vote yes on the blue ballot."

He said replacement taxes pending in the state legislature would impose a tax on the receipts of all utilities, impose a tax on partnership estates and increase the corporate income tax from four to six and a half percent — a jump of more than 60 percent.

"The biggest problem with replacement taxes, apart from their redistribution of the tax bite, is the fact that most of the new taxes will be contested in the courts," said Lockhart.

"This is the major reason why such groups as the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois and the Association of Realtors are urging a yes vote on the blue ballot."

"They have been joined by such educational groups as the Illinois Association of School Boards, the Illinois Education Association and the Association of School Administrators, as well as more than a dozen other statewide civic, business and labor groups."

"It is unfortunate that the form of the ballot is so vague — the language of the ballot doesn't even mention the word taxes on it."

"But voters should realize that if they are against new taxes, they should not only say yes but vote yes on this most important blue ballot on Nov. 7."

"The blue ballot is the single most important issue affecting people's pocketbooks in Illinois. We can't afford the alternatives."

"South is a unique school and we want to share it with you," James Dumont, principal, said.

"This year the parents will see students working in various areas such as art, foods, child care and health occupations."

"In addition, parents can visit some college representatives and members of our faculty. Year books may be ordered, along with senior class rings and announcements, all in one visit," Dumont said.

The South Photography Club will take a five-inch by seven-inch color picture for $2.50, and parents can even participate in basketball scrimmage or volleyball.

The open house is divided into two parts: Part one from 7 p.m. until 7:25 p.m. will be a general session in the auditorium. The South Cheerleaders will perform a dance routine and give a special "Welcome to Parents" cheer. There will be some awards to students and Dumont will give a brief welcoming address. Activities in the classrooms will be from 7:30 p.m. until 8 p.m.

The activities will include

Free babysitting services will be provided on a first-come, first-served basis in the schools new Vocational Child Care Center in Room 208.

Only through the sincere cooperation of parents and teachers can students be motivated to learn. Only by working together can we assure to all young people the education to which they are entitled. I sincerely hope that the parents will demonstrate their support for their children and their schools by visiting us during our open house," Dumont said.

The program is being coordinated by Sonya Anderson of the Guidance Department.

ARRESTS ON WARRANTS

Danny Fox, 19, of 2433 Logan Ave., was arrested at his home last week on warrants from the Madison County Sheriff's Department alleging aggravated assault and violation of the terms of his probation. He was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

NEW OWNERS: Cliff Smith, left and Lanzo Patterson, have opened P & S Tire Co. at Nameoki Road and Venice Avenue on the site formerly occupied by Udpikes Service. The business will provide a full-service gasoline operation, a wide variety of truck and car tires, a full-service garage and 24-hour road service, Smith said. Smith is a lifelong resident of Granite City and Patterson has 20 years experience in the tire business.

'Amazing Opportunities' is theme of South open house

SPECIAL MINISTERS SPEAKING ON BIBLE PROPHECY

Sheriff won't quit, would-be successors think he should

The two candidates for sheriff of Madison County this week joined those who have been calling for the resignation of Sheriff John Maeras, who was indicted by a federal grand jury in Springfield Friday.

Republican Robert Bibby and Democrat Emil Toffant agreed that both Maeras and his chief of field operations, Capt. John Cooper, should immediately resign.

The grand jury indicted the two in an eight-count indictment charging they attempted to cover-up a scheme in which Cooper and former Madison policeman Ronald Gryzwacz allegedly picked up payments from operators of taverns, houses of prostitution, service stations and towing firms and gave money to the sheriff.

Sheriff Maeras said Monday, "I have done nothing wrong" and that he has no intention of resigning despite suggestions that he do so.

"I am confident in our judicial system," the sheriff said in voicing the belief that he will be found innocent.

"Asked if each thought Maeras should resign before his term ends Dec. 1, the candidates said they did. "I really do. I think he should resign and I think Cooper should also," Toffant stated.

"Their failure to do so can only hurt morale in the department and morale is a big problem now in the Madison County Sheriff's Department, now that their two top men are involved."

"Deputies are taking a lot of verbal abuse in the county from this thing and most of them are good deputies, just doing their jobs."

Bibby said he feels that if Maeras does not resign, some criminals arrested by deputies may be set free simply because jurors may question the credibility of deputies testifying against the defendants.

"The new sheriff will not take over until Dec. 1, and in the meantime, the criminal justice system in the county is going to suffer. A lot of cases could be lost simply because the jury associates the deputies with Maeras," Bibby stated.

Bibby said he does not expect Maeras' resignation, but noted Madison County Coroner Dallas Burke would, by statute, run the department in the interim.

"which would be an improvement," he said.

"From a practical standpoint, Robert Rizzo, chief deputy, would continue to run the department, and from my past association with Rizzo, I feel he would do a good job."

Toffant said he did not wish to comment on other deputies in the department, including Rizzo, but indicated he has been watching the developments in the federal investigation carefully, particularly those pertaining to deputies.

Bibby called the indictment of Maeras "a classic example of how a single-party dominance breeds corruption" and alleged, "The same machine that put Maeras in office is behind my opponent."

"He owes them favors and that has been part of the problem in that department for a long time; when individuals with political clout just can't be touched, except for armed robbery," Bibby contended.

Toffant responded, "They say I am backed by the Democratic machine. I hate that word. Every time they say 'machine,' I get chills. The machine had four people against me in the primary."

"I did not seek the endorsement of the Democratic Central Committee and I have not given them any money. They adopted me. I'm glad to have support from Democrats, Republicans and independents, but I do not owe anything to any 'machine,'" Toffant noted, adding, "Bibby's got his organization too — the Republicans."

Bibby said he believes he has risen in popularity from "the underdog" to the lead in the campaign. "It's at least 50-50 out there and some say I'm climbing into the lead. I'm certainly not the underdog I once was," Bibby contended.

Madison County Board Member Daniel Partney told the Press-Record Tuesday that he agrees the sheriff should resign. "As a matter of fact, I have been saying that since back in July."

"When someone refuses to testify at a trial, saying they will invoke their Fifth Amendment rights, as Maeras and Cooper did during the Gryzwacz trial, it says to me he's got something to hide. That's enough for me to call for their resignations and I still do," Partney stated.

Partney also said he feels Cooper should be brought before the sheriff's Merit Commission, but noted the state's attorney has ruled that only the sheriff can initiate charges with that commission.

Partney is seeking an opinion from the attorney general's office whether the county board can call for such charges to be filed, but said he does not expect that opinion to be issued until after Maeras' term ends Dec. 1.

CANCER SOCIETY DELEGATES. Six members of the Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society attend the annual convention of the Illinois Division in Chicago. From left, Jeannio Yakubian, special events chairman; Mary Taylor, secretary; William Aery, 1978-79 crusade chairman; Lucy Youngberg, public education chairman; Dr. Richard Yoder, unit board vice president and District VIII director, and Miss Kathleen Gorman, vice chairman of the unit board. Training workshops for volunteers to strengthen the organization were among features of the meeting.

ACHIEVEMENT PLAQUE is presented to Dr. Richard Reinhardt of Granite City, center, following an educational seminar in Chicago recently. The seminar dealt with successful management techniques, practice concepts, therapeutics, chiropractic research and theoretical applications. Recent developments in the fields of contour analysis research and weight control also were reviewed. Reinhardt, a chiropractor, received the plaque for his accomplishments in the chiropractic field. At left is Dr. Gordon Heuser and at right is Dr. Rolla J. Pennell, both directors of the Clinic Masters consulting firm, which hosted the seminar.

Alton Bar backs Cohn

Last week at its regularly scheduled meeting, the Alton-Wood River Bar Association, by secret ballot, endorsed Gerald B. Cohn for circuit judge over William Johnson. The secret vote was 88 percent for Cohn, 10 percent for Johnson and two abstaining.

"This is the same result — Cohn endorsed and Johnson not endorsed — as in the only other secret polling of lawyers, which was done by the Illinois State Bar Association," a spokesman said.

"The candidates in the previous State Bar Association poll were rated on lawyers' responses by secret ballot to six questions which could be answered 'yes,' 'no' or 'no opinion.'"

Cohn, in a short talk after the vote, said he considered it an honor to be "picked by the men I have worked with for the last 12 years, since they have to be in the best position to rate the qualifications of the two candidates."

Johnson attended the meeting but declined to comment to the members on the results of the vote, the spokesman added.

John Webster is president and Dean Sweet secretary of the Alton-Wood River Bar Association.

World Community Day, Friday

World Community Day celebration will be observed in the Tri-City area on Friday, Nov. 3, at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontoon Road.

Mrs. Marion Pierson, CWU president, announces "Touchstones for Discipleship" will be the worship service topic.

A coffee hour and registration period are planned, beginning at 8:30 a.m. with the program to start at 10:15 a.m., Mrs. Pierson added.

"Our program is designed to make us more aware of the wealth of material blessings which we, as American women, enjoy and to find practical ways of helping those who are less fortunate to achieve a better life," the CWU leader said. Participating in the annual program will be eight different Quad-City churches.

Church Women United has celebrated World Community Day since 1941. All women are invited to attend the program, Mrs. Pierson advised.

Mrs. Helen Lipchik was presented with a gift and decorated cake in honor of her birthday at a meeting of the Bunko-ettes held last week in the home of Mrs. Rose Druhe.

Those holding high scores in the games and receiving prizes were the hostess, Mrs. Leona Delatoye, Mrs. Lipchik, Mrs. Ruth Partney and Mrs. Florida Batson.

Later in the evening Mrs. Druhe served refreshments to those named and to Mesdames Angie Buehler, Helen Santagato, Julia Portell and Dorothy Barnett.

Fire safety is Pack 28 topic

In conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, Pack 28 of Parkview School held a poster contest on fire safety as the highlight of a monthly meeting held this week at the school.

Top winners in the contest include Scott Levault, Derick Martin and Scott Wilson, Den Three; John Wilson, Mark Sine and Kirk Meador, Den Four; John Morgan and Kirk Sine, Den Six; Mike Zoelkowski and David Marti, Den Eight; and Webelos Mike Massman and Jim Pourdas.

An awards ceremony was also conducted by the club master for those earning first year pins. They were Scott Levault, Tim and Jamie Hogan, Scott Wilson, Derick Martin, Robert Orescovich, Jon Morgan, Todd Probes, Kirk Sine, Jay Valbert, David Baker and Charles Leveille.

Bobcat pins went to Tom Paschedag, Mark Sine, Paul

Silver arrows were presented to Ed Milton and Dave Marti.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by members of Den Three.

Granite 650 initiates

Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, conducted initiation ceremonies for Mrs. Barbara Jean Williams and Miss Mary Johnston, during a meeting held at the Masonic Temple.

Worthy Matron Dorothy Watkins and Worthy Patron Bill Watkins presided at the session and introduced Past Grand Matron Jane L. Haeman of Belleville, and Past Grand Patron George W. Weimers of Edwardsville.

Also presented as honored guest was Worthy Patron August Brinkman of Wood River Chapter.

Grand Lecturers Hazel Wood, Mary Billeby, Betty McClintock and Arline Fox were introduced with members of the grand chapter committee.

Two ten officers for the evening included Abby Bartling as Electa, Rachel Larsen as Adah, Betty McClintock as Esther, Betty Ebrecht as associate conductress and Dora Young as warder.

Those feted on their birthdays were Betty and Harry McClintock, Verna Brinkman and Dora Young.

The finance and audit committee will meet on Nov. 6, at the home of Mrs. Billeby, it was announced.

After the business segment Mrs. Watkins read a poem entitled, "Brighten Your Corner." She reported a memorial service was held for the late, Mrs. Vivian Blankenship, a past matron of the chapter.

The next meeting on Nov. 10 will be an election of officers and will convene promptly at 7:30 p.m. the worthy matron announced. She added past matrons will attend a dinner party on Saturday, Nov. 11, at Ackerman's Restaurant.

Orange and black Halloween lanterns were used as favors in the dining room and large lanterns centered the tables for the social hour. Mrs. Louise Orr created the autumn decor. Assisting her were Bonnie and Jerry Fisher, May Ann and John DeHart, Peggy Gibbons and Mrs. Watkins.

Youth Appreciation week

Youth Appreciation Week has been proclaimed for Nov. 5-11 by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler.

Text of the proclamation is as follows:

"Whereas, the vast majority of the youth are concerned, knowledgeable and responsible citizens;

"Whereas, the accomplishments and achievements of these young citizens deserve recognition and praise of their elders;

"Whereas, Optimist International has since 1954 developed and promoted a program entitled Youth Appreciation Week;

"Whereas, the citizens of Granite City have indicated a desire to join with the Optimists in expressing appreciation and approval of the contributions of the youth; I, Paul Schuler, mayor, therefore proclaim the second week in November as Youth Appreciation Week in Granite City, Illinois. By this action, let it be known that we have faith in the ability of today's youth as they assume responsible roles in the future of mankind."

Scout popcorn sale to start

Residents of the southern half of Madison County and Bond County are being asked by Boy Scout officials to look for the "popcorn stand" at their favorite supermarkets Friday and Saturday, and again on Nov. 10 and 11.

The Scouts are holding their annual "funds-a-popcorn" sale. The Scouts will have a card table, plenty of popcorn, a sign identifying them and the project between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Volunteer adult leaders will be at the booths.

Profits from the sale will be divided between the local Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts selling the popcorn, and the Cahokia Mound Council for operating expenses.

Arts helping special pupils achieve, learn

By DEBBIE JENNEMAN
Onlookers at the Very Special Arts Festival held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Oct. 27 and 28, were impressed by the number of happy faces at the event.

The festival, sponsored by the Illinois Office of Education (IOE), was a very special event for more than 900 handicapped children and 300 adults. Shari Marshall was just one of the many special people who contributed to the happy faces.

A 1972 graduate of SIUE and presently a master's degree candidate in the department of speech communication, she sang her way into the hearts of many handicapped children during a song writing workshop at the festival.

"Now, I know all of you already know a song called 'I Tried,'" she said to the children, who quickly nodded "yes."

"I Tried" was written by her after her confinement to a wheelchair in 1977 as a result of multiple sclerosis. Through the miracle of modern medicine, she is again on her own two feet but must take precautions for her health.

Children in the workshop enthusiastically sang about the need to feel, hear, talk and dream in "I Tried," as well as another song, "You're Special Because You're You," also written by Shari Marshall.

Then they wrote their own song about "Halloween and trick or treating" after supplying such rhyming words as trick-or-treat, eat, beat, candy and dandy.

Mrs. Marshall presently teaches language arts in the Greenfield School District. She said she uses music as an instructional tool to teach spelling, reading, literature, composition and grammar to junior high students.

"I've always used music because the kids can learn things by music. It motivates them," she said.

Married since she quit high school at the age of 16, she is the mother of "an eighth grader and a tenth grader." She completed high school through the General Educational Development program and will receive her master's degree this year.

Although she says she sings for the "fun of it," Mrs. Marshall enjoys the competition of music contests and earned second place in the Illinois Bicentennial Folk Song Contest sponsored by Loyola University, Chicago, in 1976. The song, about a historical figure, Galus Paddock, was chosen from 82 entries.

As a self-taught musician, she came to participate in the Very Special Arts Festival through Pat Goehle, assistant professor in the department of speech communication, and festival manager.

"She asked me to sing 'I Tried' at the festival. And then I offered to write another song," Mrs. Marshall said.

In the past few years, she feels that SIUE has done much to help handicapped students, in the form of electric doors on buildings, special restroom facilities and sloped sidewalks for wheelchairs.

"You don't really know how much you take for granted when you're not handicapped," she said.

The Very Special Arts Festival was the last of five being held this fall at different locations around the state. The children were exposed to a variety of experiences in the arts.

According to Pat Goehle, the major purpose of the festival was to demonstrate the impact of arts in developing artistic responsiveness and general learning achievement among handicapped students.

1,095 blood units donated by students

Since the blood donor program began in the Granite City High Schools in November 1976, students have donated 1,095 units of blood to the American Red Cross.

Students of Granite City High Schools North and South again will donate blood to the American Red Cross this month.

Mrs. Mildred Meehan, executive secretary of the Tri-City Chapter American Red Cross, said, "Anyone can donate blood at age 17 or over who is in good health."

If the student is 17, parental consent is not needed, according to the Red Cross director.

North students will donate blood on Tuesday, Nov. 7, from 8:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.; South students will contribute blood on Monday, Nov. 27, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Of the 1,095 units, North students have given 604 units and South students 491 units.

Last year, North was given an award by the Red Cross Blood Center as having the best donor record in a four county region, including St. Louis, with 63 percent of all eligible persons donating blood. South was second in the entire region.

The Student Councils of both schools sponsor bloodmobile visits and are doing all the recruiting for donors among students.

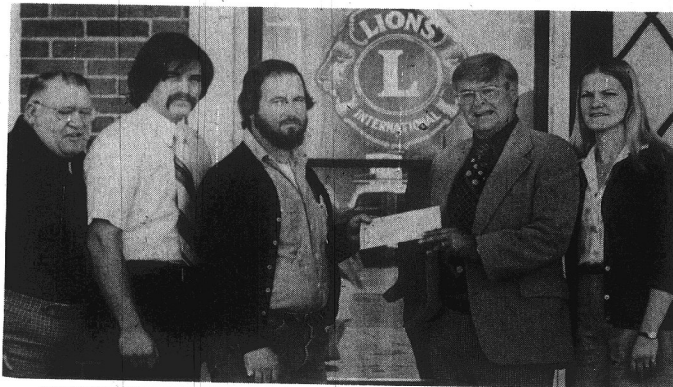

Council members also staff the volunteer positions during the actual blood collection. Volunteer workers from the local Red Cross chapter include Fran Wilkins, RN; Mildred King, RN; Patricia Konzen, RN; Dolores Voegeler, Kilty Czwornog, Helen Barney, Eula Davis and Ruby Winters who is in charge of all chapter bloodmobile volunteers.

Donald Kopp is the local chapter blood chairman.

FOREST LAND GIFT

Governor James R. Thompson last week accepted the bequest of the late Philip L. Keister of Freeport of 333 acres of forest land in Jo Daviess County to the State of Illinois.

Thompson said the land will be preserved in its natural condition, with its development restricted to parking and trails in keeping with the Keister request.

Placement tests here for GC-BAC math, English

Students who plan to enroll for either mathematics or English at Belleville Area College's Granite City extension center for the first time should sign up for mathematics and English placement tests, a spokesman said this week.

Testing will take place in Granite City High School South on Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. in Room 213. Those who plan to take either test are to sign up with Patty Evans by calling 676-7370 or by visiting her office in the South building. The office is located between Rooms 131 and 133.

Students may take either test or both on the Nov. 8 test date. There is no charge for taking the placement test.

Schedules for the spring semester classes offered by Belleville Area College on the main campus and at Granite City and 21 other extension centers throughout the district will be available from Patty Evans' office beginning Nov. 9. Schedules will be mailed to all residents of the district during the last week of November.

Corn, beans ahead of '77

Illinois corn is 79 percent harvested as of Monday, Oct. 30. This compares to 66 percent last year and 69 percent for the three-year (1975/77) average.

Field losses are still being reported but appear variable across the state. Crop prospects are still considered good, and harvest continues to progress well over the entire state.

As of this week, soybeans are 94 percent combined, compared to 84 percent in 1977 and 94 percent for the average.

Favorable weather has kept harvest progress near normal this fall. The crop prospects appear to be good overall.

Winter wheat acreage is 95 percent seeded as compared to last year's 78 percent and the average of 88 percent.

Grain sorghum harvest is about 70 percent complete statewide.

Planting for 1979 corn and soybean acreage is about 40 percent complete, compared to 19 percent in 1977 and 29 percent for the average.

Pasture conditions are reported as 2 percent excellent, 50 percent good, 43 percent fair and 5 percent poor.

Pastures are presently supplying about 50 percent of the livestock roughage requirements. This compares to 82 percent last year and 65 percent for the average.

Senior citizens offered 'first's'

(University News Service) "People become old when they do more and more for the last time and less and less for the first time."

To prove the point, the Gerontology Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is sponsoring a weekly series of cultural and educational programs designed to give senior citizens more "first's."

Every Wednesday, seniors can be the first to argue the senior power of politics, find their acupuncture points, begin piano lessons after 65, or stand up for their rights through assertive training.

Termed the Dialogue with Senior Citizens, the program began Oct. 25 with a discussion of the merits of federal welfare reform legislation sponsored by government by Ronald J. Glossop, professor of philosophy at SIUE and a supporter of the concept. He believes a federal world government would shift international relations from a military to a political base and could help solve global problems.

The free dialogue sessions, which meet in the University Center from 1:30 until 4 p.m., are open to all senior citizens in the Illinois region, according to Anthony J. Traxler, associate professor of psychology at SIUE and Gerontology Program director.

The series will continue through May, with a new speaker and subject each week.

This week, W. Deane Wiley, professor of educational administration, brought in music machines of 1898 to 1925 to demonstrate early music reproduction in the home, from hand-rolled organs to the Edison talking machine.

On Nov. 8, the series will continue with Robert B. Hawkins, professor of speech communication, and his wish that "the life-force be with us" in learning to retire actively and "content with life's furies."

Hawkins also has some opinions about cycling, running and other athletic activities.

Senior citizens will have a first chance to "see how the English do it" at the Nov. 15 program of films and a discussion of St. Luke's, a British hospice for the chronic and terminally ill, located in Sheffield. The program will be presented by Charles Corr, professor of philosophy at SIUE, and Donna Corr, a registered nurse.

After the Thanksgiving holiday, senior citizens can get back to learning on Nov. 29 by tapping the educational resources within their own families, with Hawkins and Rob Anderson, associate professor of speech communication at SIUE. They see "families as learning units" with enriching experiences to be shared.

Margaret Chang, associate professor of nursing at SIUE, will find acupuncture points and demonstrate how the procedure is used for the Dec. 6 program.

An active retired professor at SIUE will present the year-end program Dec. 13 on the demographic factors of senior power. William J. Tudor, president of the State Universities Annuitants' Association, will discuss the senior-power relationship to legislation, social activities, housing and other areas of interest.

The dialogue will continue Jan. 10 with weekly programs on South Africa, the "myth of mental illness," "ageless as a star," the energy crisis, American folklore, women in politics, ethnicity in the United States, the birth and death of stars, tornadoes, and "technology and society."

On April 26, a professor of linguistics from China will give her impressions of changes in the United States after living and working in China since 1936.

The final program, May 2, will be a look at the possibility of extending the human life span as much as 20 years, and the effects longer life would have on relationships, from marriage and education to work and health care.

According to Traxler, who will direct the final session, some gerontologists believe a "breakthrough" is possible in this century. As many as 20 years could be added by improving the cure rates for cardiovascular diseases and cancer, and by manipulating the biological clocks which determine the lengths of life spans, some believe.

Keep Illinois schools' fund options open or expect shutdowns—Cronin

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin this week proposed four "guideline considerations" for financing Illinois public schools.

In testimony before the Governor's Commission on Taxes, at Springfield, Cronin urged the commission to consider the following State Board of Education recommendations:

- 1) Allow for inflation in any consideration of limits on spending. "Flat ceilings, such as five percent maximums, should be avoided. Unexpected increases in the cost of living and energy are devastating on school districts. Provisions for increased costs should be included in any recommendations," Dr. Cronin commented.
- 2) Do not treat all school districts alike. Cronin pointed out that some districts are growing, while others are shrinking; some get less than 20 percent aid from the state, and others receive 85 percent state aid. He warned that "any reduction in state funds hurts financially-poor districts disproportionately, and cancels out equalization efforts."
- 3) Provide a factor for court-ordered increases, such as handicapped services and other federal or state mandates. Dr. Cronin suggested "allowing funds for reasonable expansion of services, for debt service payments, and quality program improvement."

4) Any call for reduced local revenues must be met with increased state revenues or appropriations. "A three-fifths voting rule on state tax increases could cripple education," Suplt. Cronin said. "Do not close off all options or you will precipitate bankruptcy or prolonged vacations, such as those experienced in Ohio and Oregon."

NEW SYSTEM OF VOTING is discussed by Mrs. Elvira Thurber, far right, a county registrar, and three ladies attending a senior citizens meeting at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave., Thursday afternoon. From left, asking questions about the new voting procedures are Mrs. Gracie Morgan, Mrs. Elma Romann and Mrs. Mildred Ward, all of Granite City. Each voting apparatus is housed in its own case which unfolds and becomes a self-supporting enclosure which allows secret voting.

PUNCH CARD VOTING which will be used in the upcoming general election on Nov. 7 is demonstrated by Mrs. Elvira Thurber, a registrar in the office of the county clerk. The demonstration was held at the Granite City Township Hall Thursday afternoon for senior citizens. A special stylus is provided in each voting booth to be used to punch the appropriate homes for the various candidates. Many observers were surprised at the ease of the new system.

Troy wants quick action in Scott case

Richard J. Troy has called on U.S. Attorney Thomas Sullivan to "clear the air" in the federal government's grand jury investigation of Attorney General William J. Scott. The two are ballot opponents Nov. 7.

"The U.S. attorney," Troy said, "should not remain silent as the election approaches if the grand jury is on the verge of clearing or indicting Scott. The voters have a right to this information before they cast their ballots, not a week or a month later."

He noted that the Chicago Sun-Times, in an Oct. 16 editorial, said, "A grand jury verdict—one way or the other—would help clear the air."

Carlyle Lake resort outlined

Governor James R. Thompson announced during the weekend that an Illinois Department of Conservation study shows it would be economically feasible to build a resort-recreational complex at South Shore State Park on Carlyle Lake in Clinton County.

The governor said bids will be taken from private developers for the lease of the resort site early next year, with a prospectus to be available from the department within 90 days.

Construction could begin as early as next year.

Included in the facility, which the study indicates could be built for about $7 million, would be a 120-room hotel with conference and exhibition space, an 18-hole golf course, dining room and lounges, a ballroom, tennis courts, indoor and outdoor swimming pools, a marina with craft rental and slips, and other sports and recreational features, Thompson said.

Development of the complex would be exclusively by private financing under a long-term leasing agreement with the Department of Conservation.

"The complex would be self-supporting and would pay the state substantial rental to operate."

"But even more significant would be the beneficial economic impact on the nearby communities. It would create hundreds of jobs and bring hundreds of thousands of dollars in revenue to the area," the governor said.

He has asked the Department of Conservation to "vigorously pursue the project," which he said would be the largest known in the nation in which state government and private industry combined to provide a resort.

Thompson noted that the department's study shows the location is in an area with good access to metropolitan areas, potentially ideal to serve both families and businesses from the Madison-St. Clair counties and Chicago areas via Interstate 55 and 57.

"There is a national trend for people to vacation closer to their homes, and the Carlyle Lake area is perfectly situated to attract these vacationers," he said.

"Studies show most visitors using this type of resort complex come from an area within a three-to-four-hour drive, or about 150 miles."

Construction plans have been made to widen U.S. 50 to a four-lane highway. The route runs along the park frontage where the resort is planned, and it links the interstate systems with the St. Louis metropolitan area.

The proposed complex would be built on a crescent-shaped, 600-acre tract along the south lakefront of Carlyle Lake, 2.5 miles east of Carlyle.

With 12,000 feet of shoreline along Illinois' largest man-made reservoir, the proposed site is considered to be one of the most scenic and attractive areas of the lake.

Although South Shore State Park has been in existence for eight years, it has been developed only in a minimal way.

Eldon Hazlett State Park, a highly developed recreational complex just opposite South Shore State Park, has been able to serve the needs of the public at the Carlyle Lake area and, therefore, only minor improvements and facilities have been made at the proposed building site.

"The Carlyle Lake recreational area now offers fishing, boating and hunting, as well as ample camping and picnicking facilities, all of which are expected to help attract a substantial number of vacationers and conventions once the project has been completed," Thompson concluded.

College enrollment to begin next week

Students may begin enrolling for spring semester classes at Belleville Area College the week of Nov. 6. Schedules are expected to arrive on the main campus in the late afternoon tomorrow.

Those who want to register early may pick up a schedule at the main campus.

Schedules will again be mailed to the district's 108,000 homes. That mailing is scheduled for the last week in November, just prior to the beginning date for telephone registration.

Belleville Area College has expanded its telephone registration service so that students may register for all classes except English, mathematics and general studies by phone if they desire.

All students are being encouraged to discuss their educational plans and schedules with a counselor prior to registering for classes.

Despite statewide declining enrollments at most of the other 38 community college districts, Belleville Area College's headcount enrollment is at an all-time high.

Margerum declines to make any predictions concerning spring enrollments. "There seems to be no explanation for enrollment trends," he responds. "All I can say is that they are changing. And what is happening in District 522 is apparently different from the statewide trend."
